MINIMUM TAX OPPOSED

Levy On Rich Said 'Penalty'

. . . BY CHAMBER'S MAN

Washington (UPI) — The U.S. Chamber of Commerce Wednesday opposed a proposal to levy a minimum tax on wealthy persons who escape all income taxes by taking advantage of certain legal deductions.

Walker Winter, a chamber vice president, told the House Ways and Means Committee that if Congress considered the deductions "improper," it should "modify" them rather than impose a minimum, which he said amounted to a "penalty tax."

It's 'Incredible'

Rep. Martha Griffiths told Winter it was "incredible" that multimillionaire philanthropist John D. Rockefeller III testified earlier he did not have to pay income taxes because of his deductions but that he annually donated an unspecified sum to the Treasury.

She said her secretaries pay at least 20% of their wages to the government and if the Ways and Means Committee did not close loopholes that let the wealthy go tax-free, its members ought to be defeated in the next election.

Winter testified that "too much emphasis has been placed on the relatively small number of taxpayers who have arranged their affairs so as to pay little or no tax."

The committee, studying tax abuses, heard testimony that in 1967 there were 155 persons earning more than $200,000 annually, including 21 millionaires, who paid no income tax because of deductions, such as through investment in tax-free government bonds.

Mrs. Griffiths said it made the committee look "stupid" when there were laws which permitted wealthy persons to escape all taxes.

While opposing a minimum tax, Winter advocated a reduction in the tax rate for higher incomes, a simplification of tax forms and raising the 10% tax deduction granted 57% of all taxpayers.

In other tax reform developments:

—Rep. John P. Saylor, R-Pa., sent all congressmen a tea bag to wear April 15, the day the income tax is due, as a symbol of the Boston Tea Party tax revolt in 1773. Saylor and Rep. Brock Adams, D-Wash., also asked for relief for middle income taxpayers.

—Rep. Bertram Podell, D-N.Y., submitted for the congressional record a list of the latest oil company profits and taxes, showing they paid an average 8.6% federal tax on $7.5 billion in net income, for 1967. These included Atlantic Oil Co., which paid no federal taxes on $145.3 million in net income.

—Rep. Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., a committee member, and Charles W. Davis, a Chicago lawyer and former chief counsel of the committee, both urged repeal of the 7% investment tax credit for business plant and equipment.

—Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., said he is preparing a bill which would levy a minimum tax on persons with high incomes who now escape all income taxes by taking advantage of legal deductions. Harris, the Democratic national chairman, said a minimum income tax for the very rich would make possible tax cuts for the middle and lower income brackets.

Suits Seek $3.3 Million From CB&Q

Companion lawsuits totaling $3.3 million were filed in U.S. District Court Wednesday against the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad in connection with a train derailment and ammonia tank car explosion Feb. 18 near Crete.

Frank E. Hoesche of Crete in his petitions seeks $605.000 for himself and $900,000 each for three of his children burned in the explosion.

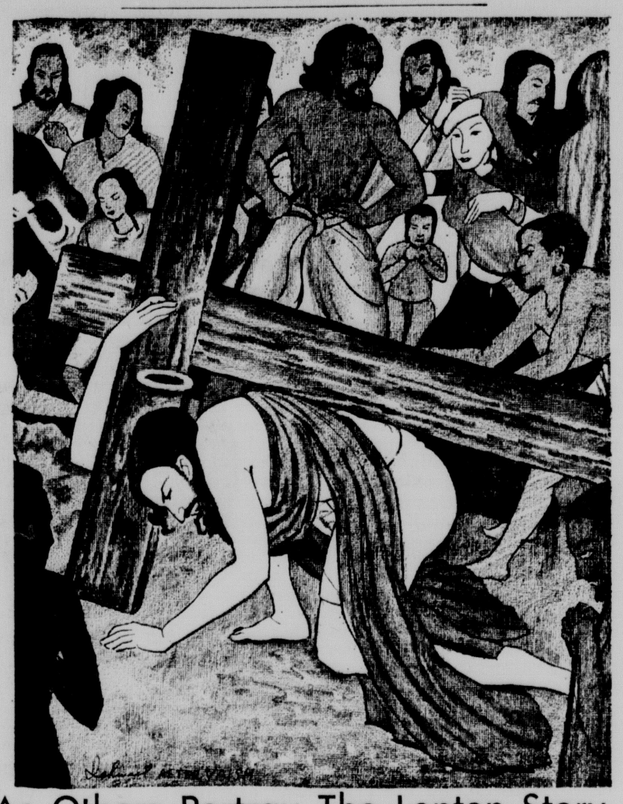

Hoesche alleges the railroad was negligent in leaving the three tank cars of anhydrous ammonia on a siding near the tracks where they could be struck in the event that passing trains were not properly operated, running at excessive speed or derailed.

The three petitions, filed in behalf of his children, William, 18, Joseph, 14, and Frieda, 16, allege that they received both external and internal burns and suffered injuries to the extent that they will not be able to "enjoy a normal childhood and grow as normal children" and will be crippled and totally incapacitated for life.

In addition to damages for alleged injuries he received, Hoesche asks for $5,000 for damage to his home and furnishings located about 100 feet from the site of the derailment.

The suits bring to $4.7 million the amount sought thus far from the railroad from damages resulting from the tragedy which claimed the lives of nine and injured many others.

On March 10, Mrs. Sonja Safranek of Crete, whose husband died in the mishap, sought $503,500 for herself and $900,000 for her one-year-old son.

Contemporary Indian Christian artists have inherited a tradition that goes 5,000 years back into the history and culture of India.

Christianity is a small minority in India but well enough established so that its faith is now being re-expressed through the art of India.

Eisenhower Buried In Cherished Abilene

By RELMAN MORIN

Abilene, Kan. (AP) — Dwight David Eisenhower was buried Wednesday in a graceful, spired chapel in Abilene, the hometown he cherished to the end of his days.

"Unto God's gracious mercy we commend you, old friend."

With these words, intoned in the chapel by Maj. Gen. Luther Miller, a retired Army chaplain, the funeral rites for the 34th president, which began last Saturday, came to an end.

Unutterable Grief

Mrs. Eisenhower was weeping when she left the chapel. Unutterable grief contorted her features.

In her left hand she clutched the flag which had been draped over the casket. Tightly folded now, in the Army funeral tradition, it was presented to her as the last act of the rites.

Her step faltered although she was holding the arm of her son, John.

In Vault In Chapel

The general was buried in a vault of the small chapel, which is located near Abilene's Eisenhower Library. His tomb is next to that of his son, Doud Dwight, who died in 1921 at age 3.

President Nixon and former President Johnson attended the ceremonies in the memorial complex known as Eisenhower Center. They walked the 200 yards from the steps of the Eisenhower Library, where the services began, to the chapel.

Waiting there for Mrs. Eisenhower, who rode in a limousine with her son, they stood for a moment on opposite sides of the entrance.

Then Nixon asked his predecessor to stand beside him.

Sunny But Chilly

It was a clear, sunny morning but a cold wind swept down from the north. Flags snapped. A sudden gust of wind caught the flag on the casket during the rites and carried most of it to the floor of the portico.

John Eisenhower reached forward quickly and caught a corner of the flag. Thereafter, two military pallbearers stood holding it. The funeral was conducted with military precision.

Promptly at 10 a.m. CST a military band at the railway station struck up "Hail to the Chief."

Mrs. Eisenhower, dressed entirely in black, watched the soldiers carry the coffin from the funeral train to the hearse. She looked tired but composed.

Hand Over Heart

Nixon placed his hand over his heart as the coffin was moved. Johnson spoke a few words to several persons as he walked to his car.

A crowd of about 5,000 had been waiting several hours for the train's arrival. The people stood, silent and unmoving. Thousands lined both sides of the route from the depot to the Eisenhower Center. They, too, were silent.

Abilene Police Chief Fred Garten said the highway patrol and the Fifth Army estimated 100,000 persons thronged into Abilene for the ceremonies. It is a community of 8,000.

Everyone stood as the coffin was carried slowly up the steps of the portico and gently placed on the catafalque. They remained standing while the funeral party walked toward the steps.

Followed By Nixons, LBJ

Mrs. Eisenhower and her son were followed by Nixon and his wife and their blonde daughter, Tricia; Johnson, Julie and David Eisenhower, and the other members of the Eisenhower family.

A hush fell over the center. Not a sound broke the silence among the thousands watching.

All the military stood at attention, saluting. The military escort snapped to the position of present arms.

The funeral party sat to the right of the coffin, the honorary pallbearers on the left.

Work On Local Construction Projects Slowed By Strikers

By DAVE ZIMMERMAN
Star Staff Writer

The president of the Lincoln Building and Construction Employers Association said Wednesday that "we must face the fact that it is not economically possible to work with most trades out on strike."

Seven unions are now officially on strike in the wake of a Monday midnight expiration of three-year contracts.

Richard Snook, president of the Lincoln Building and Construction Trades Council, said agreement on new three-year contracts had failed because of "wide differences in wage requests and offers."

'No Work'

As of Wednesday, bricklayers, cement finishers, plasterers, painters, roofers, sheet metal workers, and iron workers were on strike, in what was termed a "no contract, no work" situation.

Construction projects throughout the city were reportedly slowing down, and President John Miller of the employers association said the current dispute would "probably result in most jobs being forced to closed down by the end of the week."

Some of the major projects affected by the strike are the new St. Elizabeth Hospital, the new Post Office Building, construction and renovation at the University of Nebraska and Nebraska Wesleyan, the YMCA addition, the Highway Department Building, additions to the Brunswick plant and the Quality Courts Motel, the Schnieber food warehouse, the Goodrich Junior High School in Belmont and the Woodmen Accident & Life Building.

No Picket Signs

No picket signs had appeared at working sites by Wednesday, however.

Other craft unions whose contracts expired April 1 are lathers, operating engineers, laborers and carpenters.

Richard Dittenber, business representative for the 400-member carpenters union, said that members had voted to continue working for "at least a week," and that further meetings would be held with contractors.

"We have offered the carpenters a 40% wage increase over the next three years," said Miller. "They have not asked for another meeting, though we are willing to meet at any time."

Snook said that a "good number" of striking union members have found and are looking for work in other areas with the aid of union hiring halls.

Sen. McCarthy Shows Support Of Draft Ruling

Washington (UPI) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., sent congratulations Wednesday to a federal judge who ruled that the 1967 draft act is unconstitutional because it does not grant exemptions to persons claiming conscientious objector status on other than religious grounds.

In a telegram to Judge Charles E. Wyzanski Jr., McCarthy said "in my judgment the discrimination which you point out is clearly unconstitutional.

"The current practice even of granting exemption on religious grounds is, I believe, unconstitutional."

McCarthy added "the only proper constitutional basis is a non-religious, reasoned objection."

Public School Enrollment Up To New High

Washington (AP) — U.S. public elementary and secondary school enrollment jumped by one million at the beginning of the current school year, the U.S. Office of Education reported Wednesday.

A record 45 million pupils flowed into the public schools last September. The increase, the office said, reflects the additions to the country's 5- to 17-year-old age bracket.

Expenditures for public schools during the current year will reach an estimated $35.5 billion, up from $31.5 billion a year ago.

The office estimates the average annual expenditure per pupil in the United States this year is $696. In the 1967-68 academic year it was $623.

Ghana Leader, Ankrah, Resigns

Accra, Ghana (AP) — Lt. Gen Joseph A. Ankrah, who ousted Kwame Nkrumah from Ghana's presidency in 1966, resigned Wednesday as chairman of the ruling National Liberation Council, the nation's highest post.

Brig. Akwasi Afrifa, youngest member of the council, was unanimously elected by the council to succeed him.

Nkrumah was removed from power in any army coup while he was on a visit to Red China. He is now living in exile.

Imperial (AP) — Gailen L. Rhoden, 61, of Venango, died Wednesday afternoon when his car struck the rear of a slow-moving fertilizer spreader being pulled by a tractor.

Sheriff Bill Jeager said Rhoden died instantly.

However, he said an autopsy would be ordered to determine whether Rhoden died of a heart attack or injuries suffered in the crash.

Dean Haaberg, of Imperial, who was driving the tractor, escaped injury, though the spreader was demolished and the tractor damaged.

Constitutionality Of School Aid Bill Debated

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The constitutionality of a bill, which proponents say would permit certain federal educational funds to be used for the benefit of private schools in Nebraska as intended by Congress, was debated Wednesday before the Legislature's Education Committee.

Opponents, supported by an attorney general's opinion, said the measure is unconstitutional, and by its own language admits it seeks "to avoid the limitations" of the Nebraska constitution.

Sen. Harold T. Moylan of Omaha, principal introducer of LB1022, told the committee the bill was introduced at the request of the Nebraska Catholic Council.

Next Week

Committee Chairman Lester Harsh of McCook said the committee probably would make a decision on the bill next week. The committee adjourned immediately after public hearing.

The Rev. James Dawson of Lincoln, representing Nebraska's Catholic schools, told the committee, "The intent of Congress was that all children should have the benefit of funds made available under the federal Elementary-Secondary Education Act of 1965."

"One out of six children (55,000) attend private schools in the state," he said, "and are being deprived of the benefits and intent of the federal act."

Father Dawson said attempts by the state education commissioner and the Catholic school officials to solve this problem over the past three years have been repeatedly blocked by the attorney general's office.

Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer ruled this week that LB1022 would violate the Nebraska constitution which prohibits the state from accepting any grant or bequest of money to be used for sectarian purposes and also prohibits the state or any subdivision from making any appropriation from any public funds in aid of any sectarian or denominational school or college.

However, William J. Hotz Jr., Omaha attorney representing the Catholic schools, told the committee, "Attorneys general in other states have ruled this federal money is not public money, but are trust funds that may be segregated for benefit of children in private schools."

'Trust Funds'

"The state constitution is clear on public funds," he said, "but these are trust funds coming into the state for a special purpose."

An opponent to the bill, John Lynch of Lincoln, said private school proponents should approach their problem through the constitution rather than legislation.

"The authors of this bill tactily admit their bill is unconstitutional because it states its purpose is to 'avoid the limitation' of the constitution," he said.

The Rev. Charles Stephen, a Lincoln Unitarian minister, said the federal act, constitutionally untested for three years, is now headed for the U.S. Supreme Court.

"The federal act and this bill seek to circumvent the constitutional separation of church and state," he said. "A wall of separation that has served well both church and state."

Ross Rasmussen of the Nebraska School Boards Association said the bill is part of a "national drive for public support of non-schools.
public education" and all state legislatures are being pressured for state aid to private schools.

Full Debate

Sen. Richard Proud of Omaha told the committee the bill should be reported to the Legislature "for full debate."

"It's too big an issue to be decided in committee," he added.

Another Omaha senator, Bill Bloom, said the attorney general's opinion on the bill's unconstitutionality should "be considered as one lawyer's opinion."

Democrats Hail Victory As Trend Against Nixon

. . . BRADLEY GETS 42%, YORTY 27% IN L.A.

Washington (AP) — Democrats hailed Wednesday their capture of the House seat formerly held by Defense Secretary Melvin R Laird as signaling a national trend against the Nixon administration.

Democrat David Obey, a 30-year-old real estate broker, defeated Wisconsin State Sen. Walter J. Chilsen in a special election that Chilsen called "a referendum on the Nixon administration."

Republicans unofficially excused the loss on the grounds of a taxpayers' revolt against new state levies proposed by GOP Gov. Warren P. Knowles.

'Very Much Alive'

Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, the Democratic national chairman, said the victory demonstrated that "the Democratic Party is very much alive in Wisconsin and nationally and is looking confidently to the 1970 elections."

Harris' all-out effort to win the Wisconsin seat paid off in a 4,000-vote victory margin for Obey. President Nixon carried the district by 14,000 votes over Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey in November.

Goldwater

Obey

Republicans were virtually assured, however, of retaining their House seat in Southern California's San Fernando Valley.

Barry Goldwater Jr., son of the Republican senator from Arizona, rolled up a 22,000-vote margin over his nearest Democratic competitor, John Van De Kamp, a former U.S. Justice Department attorney. The seat had been vacated by California Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke.

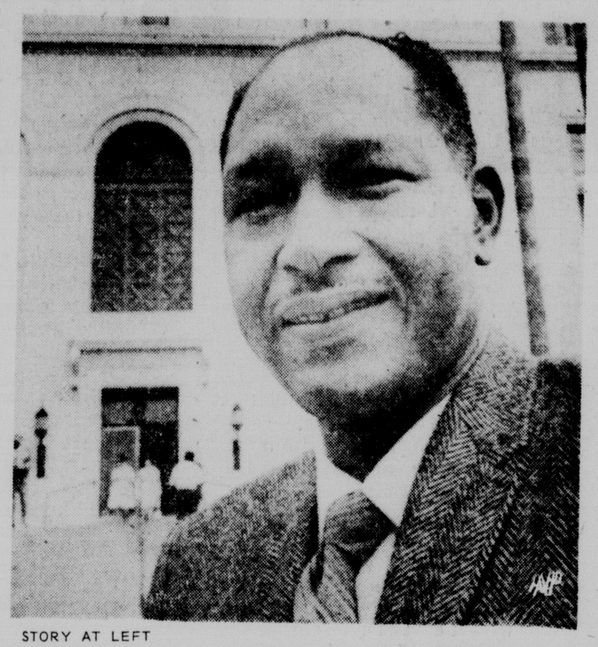

But Goldwater's total did not amount to a majority among the 14 candidates, so a runoff will be held April 29.

Another runoff will be held May 27 in the Los Angeles mayoral election, where Thomas Bradley, a Negro city councilman who ran with local and national party support, rolled up a healthy 42% of the vote among 12 candidates.

He'll face incumbent Samuel J. Yorty is the runoff. Formerly of Lincoln, Neb., Yorty, also a Democrat, polled nearly 27%. He had angered Democratic regulars by refusing to back Democratic Gov. Edmund "Pat" Brown against Ronald Reagan.

In other local elections, St. Louis Mayor A. J. Cervantes won re-election handily. But Joseph L. Badaracco gave the Republicans their first city-wide election victory in 18 years by winning the presidency of the board of aldermen.

In Dallas, Mayor Erik Jonsson won re-election, and his Citizens Charter Association won 9 of 10 City Council seats.

Navy Urges Costly Program To Replace Its Creaking Fleet

Washington (UPI) — The Navy proposed Wednesday a long-range, multibillion-dollar program to replace its creaking fleet.

It asked for $2.7 billion initially to start a fleet modernization program which it said would require even larger expenditures in subsequent years.

Vice Adm. John B. Colwell, deputy chief of naval operations, continued the parade of Pentagon witnesses who told the Senate Armed Services Committee that Vietnam has drained their regular forces elsewhere on the globe.

Colwell told the committee, in a closed meeting, that 58% of the 900 vessels in the U.S. fleet are more than 20 years old.

World News

Some, he said, "are no longer economical to operate, repair and modernize, primarily because of their age."

He asked for 16 new ships — twice the number approved last year — and 17 conversions of existing vessels.

That is the minimum needed initially, he said, to respond "to the demands of U.S. national policy."

Among the new vessels requested were a $222 million nuclear guided missile frigate able to attack independently or as a carrier escort, five destroyers, two amphibious assault ships, two nuclear attack submarines and three fast deployment logistics ships, which Congress rejected last year.

Reds Charge From Thicket But U.S. Fire Too Deadly

Saigon (AP) — About 200 North Vietnamese charged from a bamboo thicket Wednesday and tried to overrun a U.S. company dug in northeast of Saigon but lost one-fourth their number in a two-hour battle.

There were no American casualties, a U.S. spokesman said.

The North Vietnamese were met by deadly fire from the company of the U.S. 25th Division. Then artillery, helicopter gunships and fighter-bombers opened fire, chopping up the attack.

After the battle 25 miles northeast of Saigon, a sweep of the battlefield turned up 49 enemy bodies, 19 assault rifles, six rocket grenade launchers and one light machine gun, field reports said.

Near the Cambodian border, northwest of the capital, enemy forces launched three attacks against South Vietnamese airborne troops early Thursday.

Air strikes and artillery were called in to repulse the attackers. First reports said 18 enemy were killed and government losses were put at one dead and 13 wounded.

Overnight, about 10 allied military installations were shelled.

This was the lowest total in nightly shellings since the enemy's spring offensive began. About 20 rounds of 107mm rocket fire fell into the sprawling U.S. Army headquarters base at Long Binh, 15 miles north of the capital. Two Americans were killed and two wounded.

In assessing what seems to be a lull in the enemy's general offensive, U.S. military analysts said the Communist command apparently has ordered a pause to size up its gains and losses.

Pessimistic Pope Compares Church's Ordeal To Jesus'

© New York Times Service

Rome — Pope Paul VI issued an anguished appeal for solidarity Wednesday with a church suffering from "the defection and scandal" of clergy and laymen who "crucify" her.

In a Holy Wednesday homily delivered to several thousand pilgrims in St. Peter's Basilica, the pontiff related the present ordeal of the Roman Catholic Church to that of Jesus Christ.

In some of the most pessimistic language he has ever employed, in the opinion of observers in Rome, Pope Paul appeared to express his sorrow over the recent defections of two Latin American bishops, the increasingly frequent marriages of priests and such signs of dissent from authority as the widespread resistance to his renewed ban on artificial means of contraception.

The pontiff recalled the "wave of serenity and optimism" that followed the Second Vatican Council over a church renewed and stripped of "any medieval rigor" and of "any pessimistic interpretation of man." Was it possible, he asked rhetorically, that after the council, the church could be suffering?

"Yes, after the council," he said, "the Lord tests us. The church suffers, as you know, from the oppressing lack of legitimate liberty in so many countries of the world.

"It suffers through the abandonment by so many Catholics of the fidelity that centuries-old tradition merits and that pastoral effort, full of understanding and love, should earn."

Signs of quiet "destructive" insurgency, criticism by "favored sons" — priests, teachers, laymen — threatened the church communion, institutional existence, canonical norms, traditions and cohesion, he said.

Czechoslovakia Tightens Screws On Anti-Soviets

Vienna, Austria (AP) — Apparently bowing to a Soviet ultimatum, Czechoslovakia's Communist Party and government announced a clampdown Wednesday on news media and others who oppose policy dictated by Moscow.

The move may end all public defiance of the Soviet occupation and may lead to changes in top party posts.

Following a party presidium announcement of new measures against the press, the government ordered censorship for all news media "where there is no guarantee that they will proceed in harmony with the interests of the domestic and foreign policy of the state," the Czechoslovakia news agency CTK reported.

The government ordered the interior ministry to find the "perpetrators of unlawful acts" and called on the prosecutor general "to see to their speedy punishment." This may be a reference to anti-Soviet demonstrations that provoked the new confrontation from Moscow.

Another government measure called for the army to "help police to maintain order in the country."

Saying the anti-Soviet outbursts "gravely complicated" the movement for reform, the government "expressed its regret and apologies for the acts which took place" to the Soviet Union, CTK reported.

Hand, Stork Tie For Seat

Lincoln Star Special

Seward—A canvass of voting in the First Ward Monday will determine the winner of the City Council seat.

Incumbent Chapin Hand and Martin Stork were tied after officials counted the votes. The winner will serve a two-year term.

Roland Ramsay was elected to the City Council in the Second Ward, and incumbent Byron Winter was re-elected in the Third Ward. Both will serve two years.

Incumbent George Schluckebier and Dale Fosler were re-elected to three-year terms on the Seward Board of Education.

Voters Retain Hagemeister

Hemingford (AP) — Bruce Hagemeister didn't seek re-election to the Hemingford airport authority but he apparently retained the post as 16 voters wrote in his name.

Dr. John Ruffing, Fred Stower and Joe Manion were named to two-year terms as village trustees.

Vincent Rosenberger and Lyle Speer, both incumbents and both unopposed, won three-year terms on the School Board.

Changing To Metric System 'Would Have Chaotic Effect'

By The Associated Press

Rep. Dave Martin, Nebraska Republican, and Rep. B. F. Sisk, California Democrat, are featured in the April issue of the American Legion magazine, "Washington Pro and Con" section.

They discuss whether the United States should officially change to the metric system.

Martin's opinion reflects concern over the costly and difficult measure that would be involved in transforming the country to complete metric measurements and standards.

At a time when there has been no demand for such a change and apparently no critical need, Martin said, "such a change would have a chaotic effect around the country."

"Can you imagine the American housewife going to the grocery store and instead of buying a pound of bacon, butter or what not, she would have to purchase one kilo?" Martin asked.

Map Revisions

Other examples he cited included changes of highway distance designations, complete map system revisions, change of all linear measurements, changes of product labeling and packaging, legal land descriptions to mention a few.

He said, "the total estimated cost of conversion to the metric system by industry in the U.S. has been estimated as high as $15 billion plus."

Summary Of Conditions

A ridge of high pressure is located from the north central portion of Iowa to the southeastern corner of Nebraska and into south central Kansas. This ridge will move slowly eastward as a rapidly moving Pacific front now located from the extreme northwestern portion of Montana to northwestern California moves eastward. This Pacific front by Friday morning will be located on a northeastern Iowa, northwestern Missouri, Texas Panhandle line.

There will be warming over Nebraska and Iowa Thursday and over western Iowa at night with little change in temperature expected over Nebraska Thursday night and Friday. Skies will be fair to partly cloudy through Thursday night with slight increase from the front as it moves rapidly through the area. There is a chance for a few showers over Iowa as the front moves through that section Friday.

14% Growth For Omaha Seen By '79

Omaha (AP) —Industrial expansion, completion of the Interstate Highway, and growth of water recreation areas will be major factors in the projected 14% growth in metropolitan Omaha in the next 10 years, planning officials said.

Omaha's central location also will be a factor in the growth of the metropolitan area to an estimated 588,000 by 1975, O. A. Kinney Jr., director of the Omaha-Council Bluffs Metropolitan Planning Agency said.

Kinney said Census Bureau projections for the metropolitan area square with MAPA estimates.

The greatest part of the growth through 1975, about 70%, will be in Douglas County, Kinney said. Another 20% will be in Sarpy County, and 10% will occurr in Pottawattamie, County, Iowa, Kinney said.

"But Council Bluffs just might fool us, because there is much potential and a great push for industrial expansion there. The area is getting new industry now, and we are going to get more during the next decade."

Lowland Flooding Along North Fork At Norfolk Seen

Norfolk (AP) — The warm temperatures of the past two days have opened culverts and ice ridges through the drainage basin of the North Fork and Elkhorn Rivers, allowing ponded water to escape into the streams, the Norfolk Weather Bureau said Wednesday.

The bureau predicted a steady and gradual rise on the North Fork, causing some lowland flooding. At present, the bureau said, it appears the Elkhorn will be able to handle the excess water, with only minor lowland flooding.

STORY AT RIGHT

IKE'S BROTHER IN ABILENE — Edgar Eisenhower of Tacoma, Wash., a brother of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, is accompanied by a military officer as he leaves the funeral train Wednesday in Abilene, Kan. He was in the group which accompanied the body of the former chief executive from Washington, D.C.

Many At Funeral Kept Long Vigil

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Abilene — Get thousands of people together even at a state funeral, and inescapably you get some state fair aspects as well.

That was apparent here Wednesday as this town's largest crowd ever paid final respects to one president and greeted two others. The throngs were notably attendant as General Eisenhower's funeral cortege passed by — but they were also the great American sightseers.

They came by bus, overloaded beetles and crammed station wagons from all over the country. Neighboring states Nebraska, Oklahoma, Colorado and Missouri sent more than their share, but coastal areas likely also were evident.

With the south section of Abilene roped off for security, parking space was especially acute. Hundreds of military vehicles added to the problem, necessitating walks by some visitors of nearly two miles.

Blankets and folding chairs were common place — and near-necessities — for those who arrived before dawn. Although the funeral train itself pulled in at 7 a.m., the procession did not begin until three hours later.

"I wouldn't think of making a crowd estimate," said one state patrolman. "Frankly I don't even know how many patrolmen are here, but it's in the dozens."

300 Newsmen Present

Volunteer lawmen from communities all over Kansas also assisted some 2,400 Army troops in traffic and security controls. At least 300 newsmen, limited to designated areas during the ceremonies, were present.

Because of a brisk wind, even the press had difficulty hearing the amplified funeral message The public, restricted from the grounds until after the ceremony, was at still more disadvantage.

Soon after the funeral, however, the memorial park was opened and thousands strolled around the small chapel. Oldsters and hand in hand teenagers alike shared the hundreds of mums which had marked part of the processional route.

"This is a flower to be pressed and saved," beamed one girl. "This was a day to see—and to remember."

Two New Spud Varieties Are Released By NU

Two new potato varieties have been released by the University of Nebraska experiment station, NU professor of horticulture R. B. O'Keefe reported.

The new varieties have been named Shurchip and Sioux.

Shurchip was so named because of its ability to withstand field chilling and reconstitute from cold storage to produce light colored potato chips, O'Keefe said.

Sioux is a uniform round, red, slightly scaly russet variety of medium maturity, O'Keefe said.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

All too often, we are afraid, people see in something that which they want to see. Very seldom are matters so cut and dried that the facts allow for no interpretation.

Such is the case with LB1342, the school district reorganization bill that will be heard by the Education Committee of the Legislature April 9. An ardent foe of the measure is S. H. Brauer, Jr., secretary of the Nebraska School Improvement Association.

Brauer started out by requesting the hearing be held in the University of Nebraska Coliseum, to facilitate the thousands of people who want to come and protest the bill. Then, he sought to have the hearing carried on the ETV network.

Quite appropriately, both requests have been denied. It is not, as claimed, a matter of ignoring the rights of the people, of undemocratic procedure or anything else like that. It is purely and simply a matter of orderly procedure.

Why should the Legislature change its procedure for the sake of Brauer and his militant NSIA organization? If it did change, would it not be duty-bound to bow to the wishes of every special interest group that came along? And who knows what sort of procedures various people would like to impose upon the Legislature for their own welfare?

Now, Brauer seeks a debate with Governor Tiemann over the merits of LB1342. As of this writing, the governor has not replied but we would imagine he will decline the Brauer challenge.

Why? Because he fears Brauer, or is wrong in his position? No. It is because he will not want to give any stature or prominence to Brauer and the position he holds in school district reorganization.

Brauer maintains that the governor is wrong, specifically, in calling LB1342 permissive legislation. We must admit that Brauer has the best of that argument because the bill makes reorganization an absolute certainty.

However, the governor can argue that the structure of the reorganization is up to local citizens. That is, a proposed newly organized district must vote for or against the organization and, thereby, can shape that district.

But ultimately, the people of a district must vote for some plan of reorganization or have one forced upon them. The deadline is July 1, 1973.

The bill in question makes it mandatory that all territory in the state, by the above date, be included in a school district that is either a K-12 system with 1,400 pupils or a system that covers at least 550 square miles.

Currently, Nebraska has 1,992 school districts and only 37 of them would meet one or the other criterion set up in LB1342. Thirty-one districts meet the enrollment criterion and another six meet or very nearly meet the area requirement.

Obviously, 1,955 of Nebraska's present school districts would be affected by the organizational requirements of LB1342. Some would be affected only slightly and some would be affected to a major degree.

Thus, despite all the side arguments, this bill squarely presents the question of school district reorganization. If we want it, this bill will provide it and there are no two ways about it.

And when the citizens of Nebraska ponder that question, it is hoped they dwell upon the educational opportunity to be afforded children, not the economic or social consequences of reorganization. And reorganization is not, as Brauer would like you to believe, a betrayal of democracy or representative government.

A good and adequate education is the birthright of every child, not something to be parceled out by degrees according to political, economic and social considerations. To deny that birthright is the real betrayal of democracy.

Egg Roll

A Slum In The Making

A great disservice to Lincoln could be in the making with the federal General Services Administration bid-opening June 5 on the 1,000 housing units at the old Lincoln Air Force Base.

Normally, one might look at these units and think that at $5,000 a unit, they would be a terrific bargain. After all, anything that can be rented can pay off $5,000 in a hurry.

And that could be just what would happen. Then, the buyer would find that some 200 of the units are in such terrible shape that they are uninhabitable. None of the units meets the city's building code and none is assured of continued utility service.

The housing is outside the city limits and, thus, assured no fire and police protection. Sidewalks are non-existent or in poor condition. Streets are far below standards. Most of the units need a minimum of physical improvements.

Thus, whoever buys them faces a possible multitude of problems, depending in extent upon the cooperation or lack of it by the city government. If the city wanted to be tough about it, it could well prevent the occupancy of every single unit. The Airport Authority could do the same thing since utility service to the housing crosses authority land.

Seemingly, the only possible out for the area under private enterprise is to bleed the units for all that is in them on a low rental basis or make a quick resale of the area. The economics point directly at an ultimate slum development for the housing area.

Perhaps we will be proven wrong or perhaps the government will not get an acceptable bid and the Lincoln Housing Authority will re-enter the picture. But the situation at the moment is a serious threat to the city and an unfortunate demonstration of federal bureaucracy and bullheadedness.

Sad But Necessary Step

It is not a particularly happy event, but the elimination of diagonal parking along N and P from 10th to 17th is an essential step. As any driver knows, it is much easier to park diagonally than parallel. Also, diagonal parking allows for more parking spaces.

But diagonal parking has one big disadvantage — it is an obstacle to the movement of traffic and an invitation to accidents. By switching from diagonal to parallel parking on N and P, both streets will facilitate four moving lanes of one-way traffic.

Currently, the streets are a mishmash of two to four lanes. One travels these streets in the pattern of a snake, weaving back and forth with the flow of traffic as it skirts around the read end of cars parked diagonally along the street. Now and then a car backs out of its parking stall and things are made an even worse mess, if an accident does not occur to make it still more complicated.

With the automobile situation the way it is, cities today have no choice but to concentrate on the use of streets for the movement of traffic rather than the parking of vehicles. Street construction is far too expensive and valuable to devote to the parking of cars where such parking impedes the flow of traffic.

The change on N and P will further tighten the parking problem in downtown Lincoln but that is a matter that must be dealt with on its own merits. The parking change along the street, when coupled with the painting of traffic lanes, will greatly improve the movement of vehicles and without any additional public cost.

Equal Opportunity

Broken Bow, Neb.

I see that the Legislature has passed LB151 introduced by Terry Carpenter. I think this is a good bill, but I do have one bit of criticism. Why limit this protection to the liquor dealers? Aren't all small businesses entitled to the same protection?

I have always maintained that one of the mistakes of the writers of our Constitution was in not outlawing the volume discount. This has probably done more harm to our country than any one other thing. There are thousands of former businessmen who are no longer in business just because some large operator could sell his goods for less than the small businessman could buy them, besides the fact that the small businessman had to act also as banker while the large businessman got cash. The same with the small farmer. He has to pay from 5% to 40% more because he buys in small quantities. We're always preaching equal opportunity. Is this equal opportunity? Not by a long ways.

Whenever anyone, whether he be a manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer or whatever he may be, sets a price on his goods or services, it should apply to all, regardless of race, creed, color or quantity purchased. This would eliminate the need for subsidies. It would stop everyone from going to the already congested areas, which would in turn help reduce air pollution, stream pollution and garbage disposal problems, and eventually would help the juvenile delinquency and crime problems. And I'm not so sure that it might not even have something to do with the prevention of war.

Some of our problems would be so simple to prevent, but it seems our lawmakers let them develop first and then try to figure out the hard way how to get out of a bad situation.

Girl Athletes

Mead, Neb.

We wish to comment on the unusually idiotic approach taken by the esteemed sports editor of The Star, Mr. Hal Brown, on girls' basketball (March 26).

We wonder if Mr. Brown is aware that at present, a large number of the "too many small schools" in Nebraska now have girls' volleyball. No doubt he is against this as well. However, his reasoning on the numerous problems which the coaches would have with the girls (e.g., girls would refuse to play sometimes because their lipstick clashes with the uniform, etc.) as well as his observation that the state tournament would be ruined when it turns out that it is "that time of the month" for three-fourths of the girls does not seem to hold true in volleyball. (Of course, we have the advantage over Mr. Brown of teaching in a small school where they have girls' volleyball, so we are able to make concrete observations, whereas he sits back and apparently concentrates on the "more important" things — boys' sports, on which he probably gets information second-hand by watching television, etc.)

One last observation: His statement that girls who would go out for such sports would not be "beautiful bodies" does not seem to hold true, either. We have seen quite a few losers in home ec classes — perhaps more than those in athletics.

We would like to suggest to Mr. Brown that he look a situation over before he writes — or, better yet, that he close up the typewriter.

No Refund

Lincoln, Neb.

I wrote the "Honorable" Carl Curtis, suggesting that since he was against the pay raise, he return the money to the Treasury. His answer follows:

I wrote to him since, saying that one man COULD light ONE candle and illuminate the world. I'm sure he will not be able to fulfill this manly obligation, and told him so.

It will be a pleasure to vote against him again — if he runs.

RICHARD N. SORENSEN

"Dear Mr. Sorensen: I have your letter, and you will perhaps be interested in the fact that I have introduced legislation to abolish the Commission. A copy of my comments in the Congressional Record at the time of the introduction of this legislation is enclosed.

"I am not going to turn the money back to the Treasury. I do not expect that any other government official or judge will do so. The whole process was a mistake. I voted against it, but those who did lost. The action of one man cannot remove the evils brought about by the total transaction.

Patchwork Prairie Country

This morning there was a pink glow in the east shading into a band of red along the rim of the world. The sun got up slowly as if it didn't like to come face to face with a new day. The eye of the sun was half opened as it loitered behind a cloud bank. My eyes, too, were half open as I left the house called mainly by the loud gaggling of wild geese that settled nearby in the wheat field.

Flock after flock circled the farmyard, then came to rest near the big pond. They were big white snow geese pointing like silver arrows into the wind, then falling to earth like spent arrows that had not reached their target.

How rich I am, I thought, as I scanned the horizon of blazing color. There is no vault that holds the gold of a sunrise, so I can claim all of the splendor I see. There is no fence around the wide expanse of blue sky. There is no legal claim to the river as it winds to the sea. Would I be wrong to put my name on these? There is no lock on the ocean so I will claim the wild, storm-tossed waves that beat upon the rocky shore. I have my name on the violets that grow by the wayside.

The magnificent oak tree that spreads its sheltering arms in the far corner I have claimed, too, though it will be standing long after I have claimed a plot of ground in eternity.

The wind that ruffles the robin's feathers in the tree top is mine, too. When I hear the soft mourning call of the dove near my window like a chord of divine music from heaven, I know that it's meant for my ears.

The list would grow long if I should continue. I would have to include the silver needle drops of rain that fall upon my garden walk and the butterflies on wispy wings of silk that cling to the bud of a rose.

So many things came to mind this morning as I surveyed my domain. I felt rich with these things and peace came to my heart though I well know that those who have millions of dollars in bank accounts would consider me a pauper.

These things I have claimed are yours, too. I would not be selfish nor stand in a place apart from all mankind. Other men have sought these, also, and in seeking them have found a blueprint for living.

The Farmer's blueprint for living has been etched in mud, squishy, squashy mud that sticks to the boots and makes walking a task. I cannot come up with any beautiful thoughts on mud that would make The Farmer's work less tiresome.

Mud is mud, oozy, gooey, deep, dark, dirty mud. Unless he would stumble into bubbling crude oil somewhere beneath the surface of mud, he is not about to take to singing the praises of mud. Perhaps by ignoring he conditions underfoot, I can best serve.

Communication By Satellite Discussed

WASHINGTON — It didn't make many headlines, but one of the most important international conferences in recent years took place in Washington last week when 98 countries discussed future satellite communication. Though the Russians previously had scoffed at the American satellite corporation organized to send international messages around the world, they attended and actually praised the American efforts.

In fact, every important socialist country outside of China — 30 of them altogether, plus Mongolia — attended. They sent their top people, acted with great dignity and had meaningful things to say. There were no polemics or communist rhetoric.

Leonard Marks, former director of the U.S. Information Agency, was elected chairman and opened the meeting by telling how, when he was a boy in Pittsburgh, his father had a Bell telephone, his grandfather had a Keystone telephone.

"But we could not talk to each other," said Marks. "The nations of the world must not be divided in regard to communications, unable to talk to one another."

The Communications Satellite Corporation, organized by the United States, now has satellites over both the Atlantic and the Pacific Oceans and will place one shortly over the Indian Ocean. These satellites now carry 90 per cent of the international message traffic. Sixty-eight countries are members. The 30 communist countries were observers but have been invited to join. They appear to be cooperative. This may mark the beginning of unprecedented business cooperation in world affairs.

The Nixon administration will have trouble reshuffling the Maritime Commission to give Republicans control. It would like to junk the chairman, Admiral John Harlee, who trained the late John F. Kennedy for PT boat service and in 1964 campaigned against Goldwater.

A stroke of the Nixon pen would remove Admiral Harlee as chairman. He could have appointed the two Republican commissioners, James F. Fanseen of Maryland and James V. Day of Maine, as chairman and vice chairman instead. Yet nothing has happened.

Commissioner Fanseen, though he comes from Vice President Agnew's home state, is chummy with Maryland Democrats, including popular Sen. Joe Tydings, whom the Republicans hope to unseat. Commissioner Day, once a power in the American Legion, is backed not only by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith but by Sen. Ed Muskie of Maine, is also a close friend of Larry O'Brien, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Services For Ike Re-Established For America That Common Religious Foundation Still Exists

NEW YORK — It is hard to believe after the reverent public response to the Eisenhower funeral services that America is quite as indifferent to religion as the modern prophets and publicists say.

You can hardly pick up a paper these days without being told by somebody that God is dead. In fact, the Pentagon has just told its chaplains in Vietnam to banish him from their services on the battlefield, which is scarcely surprising, considering the Pentagon's expansionist tendencies in all other fields.

Still, the substitute gods of the modern age don't seem to be very satisfactory. The trend toward a secular society in America is clear, but when the television demonstrates on a great occasion that it has the capacity to bring the whole nation into a common experience — almost to make us all part of a single congregation — then we find that at least the remnants of a common faith still exist.

The choir at the National Cathedral in Washington sang the old hymn. The opening line is: "Faith of our fathers, living still," and despite all the modern denials of the point, it is probably still true. The first line of the chorus, however, is different: "Faith of our fathers, holy faith, we will be true to thee till death" — and that is clearly not true for most Americans.

Nevertheless, for believers and unbelievers alike, some facts are plain. The political life and spirit of this country were based on religious convictions. America's view of the individual was grounded on the principle, clearly expressed by the Founding Fathers, that man was a symbol of his creator, and therefore possessed certain inalienable rights which no temporal authority had the right to violate.

That this conviction helped shape our laws and sustained American men and women in their struggle to discipline themselves and conquer a continent, even the most atheistic historian would defend. And this raises a question which cannot be avoided: If religion was so important in the building of the Republic, how could it be irrelevant to the maintenance of the Republic? And if it is irrelevant for the unbelievers, what will they put in its place?

"The liberties we talk about defending today," Walter Lippmann wrote in 1938, "were established by men who took their conception of man from the great central religious tradition of Western civilization, and the liberties we inherit can almost certainly not survive the abandonment of that tradition . . .

"The decay of decency in the modern age, the rebellion against law and good faith, the treatment of human beings as things, as mere instruments of power and ambition, are without a doubt the consequence of the decay of the belief in man as something more than an animal animated by highly conditioned reflexes and chemical reactions. For unless man is something more than that, he has no rights that anyone is bound to respect, and there are no limitations upon his conduct which he is bound to obey. This is the forgotten foundation of democracy . . ."

What the Eisenhower services suggested, maybe ever so vaguely to some and ever so strongly to others, is that the religious foundation of our common life — no matter how much we divide our creeds and sects and their relation to the state — is not "forgotten." It may be ignored or challenged or defied, but is not lost. We may not believe, but we believe in believing, and the reaction to the old soldier's death dramatized the point.

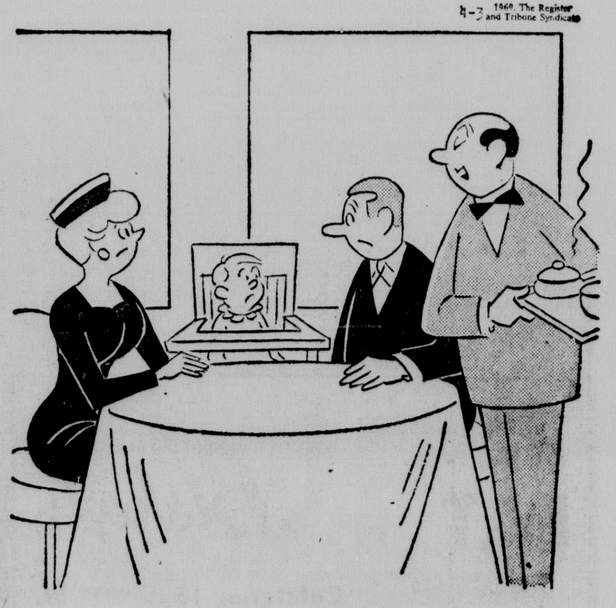

It did something else. It demonstrated how national television can bring before the people the things that touch their noblest instincts, and in the process reminded us of how seldom we use their remarkable power for this purpose.

Eisenhower, and the church, and television were unifying forces of tremendous power for good in America in these last few tragic days. They touched some old and worthy echo in the American spirit which politics, religion, and television usually repel.

These are very old questions but they are still with us. Plato saw man's problem as that of the charioteer driving a pair of winged horses: "One of them is noble and of noble breed and the other is ignoble and of ignoble breed." . . . and "the driving of them of necessity gives a great deal of trouble to the charioteer."

Tougher Rules For Forming Parties Advanced

By Associated Press

Forming a new political party in Nebraska would be a little tougher under a bill which gained 32-0 first round approval in the Legislature Wednesday.

The measure was one of 18 advanced from general file at the last lawmaking session before the start of the Easter recess.

Legislators will return at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

The political party measure, Sen. Roland Luedtke's LB599, would remove the requirement of holding a convention for the purpose of gathering petition signatures establishing a third party.

Sen. Luedtke cited as a reason for abolishing the convention the disturbances at the Omaha convention to form 1968 presidential aspirant George Wallace's American Party in Nebraska about a year ago.

Under current law, 750 signatures obtained at a convention are required to set up a new party.

Also receiving first round approval, with the vote, were:

—LB276, fixing compensation and election procedures for directors of rural and suburban fire protection districts. 33-0.

—LB497, regulating the manufacture and duplication of Keyes. 33-0.

—LB559, revising the statutory requirements of the director of administrative services, 30-0.

—L560, restrict state agencies in the purchase of postage. 33-0.

—LB774, establishing the position of lieutenant colonel in the State Patrol. 36-0

—LB801, authorizing county boards to draw new township lines. 31-1.

—LB831, allowing the director of Department of Administrative Services to redesign payroll system and become issue agent for U.S. Savings Bonds. 25-0.

—LB564, requiring municipality to assume certain obligations when it annexes rural or suburban fire district territory. 26-0.

LB374, requiring municipalities to establish air conditioning air distribution boards to regulate air conditioning. 31-0.

—LB1073, eliminating a revolving fund procedure in Department of Administrative Services. 31-0.

—LB995, permitting first class cities to construct sanitary sewers and water mains in undeveloped areas and defer assessments until abutting property owners connect to the mains. 32-0.

—LB997, authorizing first class cities to include county industrial areas in street improvement districts. 31-0.

—LB403, permitting sanitary and improvement districts to engage in sidewalk and gas lighting improvements. 31-0.

—LB837, making permissive rather than mandatory certain authority of the State Railway Commission. 27-0.

—LB721, permitting the State Board of Health to elect a vice chairman. 26-0.

—LB921, spelling out the method of calculating the miles traveled in Nebraska by trucks registered elsewhere. 27-0.

—LB517, permitting the Department of Welfare to obtain federal funds to repair the homes of aid to dependent children recipients. 31-0.

7 Bills Withdrawn By Sen. Carpenter

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff withdrew seven of his bills in the Legislature Wednesday.

Four of the abandoned measures — LBs 3, 98, 100 and 149 — dealt with municipal acquisition of local electric distribution systems.

Sen. William F. Swanson of Lincoln was permitted to withdraw his LB301, authorizing the Lincoln Housing Authority to purchase property from the federal government even though it is not low income property at the time of acquisition.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Elders Have Fewer Accidents

By ROBERT PETERSON

It's ironic that motor vehicle departments in some states still look askance at older drivers. The irony lies in the fact that statistics have long shown that older drivers have fewer accidents, proportionately, than younger drivers.

A recent report from the National Safety Council again confirms this fact, and states "Drivers 65 and over account for only five-and-a-half per cent of the auto accidents, even though these drivers represent more than eight per cent of the nation's drivers. The most dangerous group continues to be drivers under 25. This youthful group accounts for more than 34% of all accidents, even though they represent only about 21% of all drivers."

The reasons for the better driving records of older people are fairly obvious. Older people tend to be more cautious. They tend to drive more slowly. They don't take chances. They tend to stay home at night, and they avoid congested highways.

Older people also make greater effort to be alert at the wheel. Frightened by fears — and sometimes threats — that their licenses will be lifted if they so much as pass a stop sign or bump someone's fender, they take special care to drive carefully.

It's good to hear of middle-agers embarking on new careers. Writing is considered a difficult field to crack after 40. But here's a woman whose first book was published at 58.

"I lost my husband seven years ago," says Mary Forker of Ft. Wayne, Ind., "and had a painful time adjusting. It was tempting just to remain in a state of sorrowing depression. But I knew I had to do something constructive so I took a correspondence course in writing. I was in poor condition to study because of emotional shock, but I completed the course.

"I began writing a long mystery story and when it was finished my sister insisted I send it to a publisher. Voila! It was accepted. You can imagine my surprise. Having tasted the heady elixir of being published I wrote another story, and then another. My sixth book came out last October. It's hard work but the most satisfying vocation in the world. You're so right—middle-age can mark the beginning."

Watershed Financing Way Cleared

Washington (AP) — The way has been cleared for federal financing of several proposed watershed projects in Nebraska.

The way was cleared as President Nixon informed Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin that he had reviewed the watershed impasse and "decided that this administration will interpose no objection" to implementing the projects.

Some 96 projects across the nation have been hung up in a constitution dispute since 1966.

Thus, Hardin said, removal of White House objection made during the Johnson administration makes all 96 watershed projects eligible for federal assistance, depending on funds available.

Mitchell Projects

One of the major projects is the Mitchell Irrigation District in Nebraska.

Among the smaller projects are those on Clatonia Creek, Lower Medicine Creek, Upper Medicine Creek and the Papillion Creek, all in Nebraska.

The Johnson administration had told the Agriculture Department to withhold funds until a dispute involving constitutional questions on separation of powers had been settled.

Officials say federal cost sharing in the projects eventually will average about $1.5 million for each.

Hardin said in a statement that at this stage most assistance to be provided by his department will be technical help from the Soil Conservation Service.

Small watershed projects include dams and other water detention structures, along with other land treatment practices aimed at reducing water erosion and flooding.

2 Nebraskans Die In Action

Washington (AP) — The names of two more Nebraska servicemen were included among the casualties of the Vietnam war in a list released by the Defense Department.

They were Army Pfc. Thomas A. Wiese, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Wiese, Mullen, and Marine Pfc. Ronald L. Coker, son of Mr. Ceil L. Coker of Alliance.

The parents of young Wiese were told their son had died Saturday of injuries received in action. Wiese, 20, was a 1967 graduate of Mullen High School and had been in Vietnam since January 16.

Northern Has Multi-Million Canadian Plan

Omaha (AP) — Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha announced plans it said would result in a multi-million dollar investment in western Canada over the next five years.

W. A. Strauss, president and chairman of Northern, said the plans also provide for major participation by Canadian companies as well as Northern.

Northern plans to invest in natural gas development in Alberta and the Northwest territories and seek provincial and federal government permission to build the necessary pipelines to permit export of Alberta and Northwest Territories gas to the U.S. for use in its system and the systems of others, he said.

The first step in the program was the announcement that Northern has acquired a majority interest in Consolidated Pipe Lines Co., which will be responsible for the pipeline construction and gas transmission.

Consolidated, established in 1944 by a special act of the Canadian Parliament, has the right under its charter to construct and operate pipelines within Canada subject to governmental approval.

Hashhish Party Busted

Nuernberg, Germany (UPI) — Fifteen persons, including 11 U.S. soldiers and one American civilian, were arrested by detectives at what they described as a "hashish party." Police also confiscated $125,000 worh of hashish.

King Memorial March Is Friday At Grand Island

Grand Island (UPI) — A memorial march for the late Dr. Martin Luther King will be held in Grand Island Good Friday afternoon starting at 1:30.

Glen Halbe of Grand Island, organizer of the march, said the City Council has given permission for the march. He declined to comment on how many persons he expects to participate.

"I have asked no one to participate," Halbe said. "I simply feel there should be an opportunity on the anniversary of Dr. King's death to witness publicly for all that Dr. King stood for."

Tom Chittenden, Mortician, Dies; Rites Thursday

Wisner (AP) — Funeral services will be Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Wisner Methodist Church for Tom Chittenden, 62, Wisner mortician who died Monday at an Omaha hospital following a lingering illness.

He was born April 4, 1906, in New York state. He moved to Wisner in 1932 as a mortician and bought a furniture store.

Survivors include his wife, Della, and a step-sister, Mrs. Alta Trine of Madison.

Center's Ceremony Delayed

Clay Center—At the request of Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin, the groundbreaking ceremony at the U. S. Meat Animal Research Center previously announced for April 8 has been rescheduled to May 31.

Secretary Hardin requested the change because May 31 is the first date on which he can participate in the ceremony, according to Dr. Keith Gregory, director of the center.

The Secretary said he is greatly interested in the center and very much wishes to participate in the groundbreaking, Gregory said.

Any changes in the program will be announced later.

Police Seek Colorful Thief

Trenton, N. J. (UPI) — Police couldn't find their suspect in the $300 robbery of a loan company here but they had a pretty good description.

The culprit in the midafternoon heist wore purple pants, a Navy coat, an ornament in his left ear and escaped in a yellow taxicab.

Leahy, Cunningham Will Battle For Mayoralty

STREET PROPOSAL GIVEN OKAY

Omaha (AP)—Douglas County's 39-year-old Deputy County Atty. Eugene Leahy and City Councilman Robert Cunningham will battle in Omaha's general elections next month for the post of Omaha mayor.

Leahy and Cunningham won handily in voting with 27,860 and 22,743 votes respectively.

Leo J. Dworak, a veteran member of the Metropolitan Utilities District board, tallied 10,295 votes with the other candidates, Charles Herd, A. J. Treutler and Mike Brown, trailing far behind.

Six incumbent city councilmen won nomination led by 55-year-old laundry company executive H. F. Jacobberger. Incumbent Sam Vancanti finished eighth and must better his position to win in the May 13 general election.

Others in the field of 14 to be nominated included incumbent Albert Veys, former Councilman Warren Swigart, incumbent Betty Abbott, former Public Safety Director L. K. Smith, incumbents Arthur Bradley Jr. and Lynn Carey, Richard Fellman, former Douglas County Sheriff Patrick Corrigan, John Ritums, P. J. Morgan, Bernard Bergman and Nels Petersen.

Auditorium Issue Loses

Voters refused to endorse a $3.5 million bond issue for improvements to the City Auditorium by a margin of 27,581 to 37,194.

Two other proposed bond issues won majorities. A proposal calling for $7.5 million for streets and highways won 33,964 to 31,017 approval.

The issuance of $3 million in bonds for sewer construction led 32,398 to 32,455, but the outcome will depend on some 550 disabled and absent voter ballots.

Aegerter said that over $300 in cash premiums will be awarded junior exhibitors.

Bingo For 20-Year-Olds Proposed

One privilege now denied 20-year olds — playing bingo — would be granted under a bill introduced and placed directly on general file in the Legislature Wednesday.

The age at which a person reaches majority was changed from 21 to 20 by lawmakers earlier in the session.

The measure granted such rights as entering into a contract and drinking liquor, but not the privilege of playing bingo, which is contained in another section of law and requires players to be at least 21.

A public hearing on the bill, LB1358, sponsored by the Government and Military Affairs Committee, was waived on a 34-0 vote.

Last November, I sent a $2 money order to NEBRASKAland magazine for four calendars to be sent to Navy men overseas. To date, they have not received the calendars. —Mrs. L. Zegers, Garrison

ACTION LINE: The State Game Comission, publisher of NEBRASKAland magazine, sends apologies and has also sent to you four calendars by this time. Hope the servicemen don't mind the use of a calendar for only nine months.

Someone told me there is a method to the madness of numbering signs on the Interstate highways. True? —Long Distance Driver

ACTION LINE: True. Even numbers are east-west routes; odd numbers north-south routes; if the first digit is even — route through or around a city; first digit odd — route into a city.

On Nov. 20, 1968, I returned a blender to J. L. Tucker Co. at Omaha for repairs. On Dec. 2, they sent the blender to the factory. I have not heard from the company or the factory. —Mrs. H.D., Pleasant Dale ACTION LINE: J. L. Tucker Co. says the order was sent to Shetland, Co., Inc., Philadelphia, Pa. on Dec. 10, 1968 for servicing. It was received by the Shetland Co. Jan. 9, 1969 and shipped to the service factory in Salem, Mass. The blender was apparently lost between Pennsylvania and Massachusetts and a new blender is being shipped to you, says Shetland Co. ACTION LINE note: The Tucker Co. in Omaha should send all service repairs to the Massachusetts office, says a Shetland Co. official. And due to previous shipping trouble, out of Pennsylvania, an investigation is being instigated, partly due to your inquiry.

Why did the engineer who planned Cornhusker Highway not make a stacking lane (left hand turn lane) at Lilian St. on the north side of Cornhusker for traffic coming from the east and turning south? —E.D., Lincoln

ACTION LINE: A State Roads Dept. highway design spokesman says when Cornhusker Highway was constructed and remodeled, there was not enough left turn traffic to warrant a stacking lane at Lilian St., which is about 7 blocks west of 27th St. Lilian is only about two blocks long and feeds into Yolande St., which is about 7 blocks west of 27th St. Lillian is only about two two blocks long and feeds into Yolande St. behind the State Fairgrounds. However, the scene may now be different in regard to the number of turning vehicles — especially trucks — and the department will look into the situation. The department thanks you for bringing the situation to their attention.

In 1946, I taught in Nebraska and joined the State Teacher's Retirement Fund. After that, I taught in universities so I no longer contributed to the fund, but several times during the past 22 years, the state office assured me I was eligible for a little monthly pension. When I applied for the pension last October, I was told I was not eligible. Then when I asked to close out my investment account ($42 paid in 1946), I was given a check for $29.91. The interest for 22 years was $19.71, but the operating expenses were $31.80. What is this? —Mrs. T.V.H., Lincoln

ACTION LINE: The answer becomes as involved as the question, but here goes. According to the state teacher retirement office, this has been explained to you in person: the only assurance on record that you would be eligible for a pension is a letter sent to you in 1946 from the retirement office in the Statehouse. At that time, the pension plan was in effect, but in 1951, the Nebraska Legislature amended the teacher retirement act to read that a person has to be employed in a Nebraska school system at retirement to receive credit for out-of-state service that would apply toward Nebraska retirement. In 1946, your pension assurance was based on the fact you had taught three years in the Colorado system and that time could be counted toward Nebraska retirement. However, since you were not teaching last year at retirement time, the Colorado teaching time cannot count — this by the 1951 change in the law.

As to the investment, such a small amount would naturally be eaten away over the years by administrative charges. The Nebraska law stipulates that the state will match administrative costs of the retirement system. In order to be fair, each individual teacher's retirement fund is charged equally toward the operative costs. Frankly, your accumulated per annum interest was less than the annual operational costs assessed against your fund. It is not the duty of the retirement office to inform each teacher of the status of that particular retirement account, as the teacher can send for an account statement each year.

Why are there no signs directing the public to Pawnee Lake north of Emerald from Highways 6 and 34 and no exit from Interstate 80? — Camper, Seward

ACTION LINE: The area is not deemed sufficient enough to warrant an Interstate 80 exit, says the State Game Commission. Further, there are adequate signs at Emerald directing traffic toward recreation areas north and south of that village — Pawnee being north and the lake near Denton being south. If you wish interchanges from Interstate 80, you can exit at Lincoln and at Pleasant Dale. As to signs not being on Highway 34, the Game Commission is waiting until an all-weather road can cut off from Highway 34 to Pawnee as well as to other recreational areas and then establish directional signs. ACTION LINE note: an estimated 400,000 persons visited Pawnee in 1968, so finding the way to the area must not have been that difficult.

Indian Challenges Conviction; Claims Violation Of Treaties

By JAMES STEVENSON
The Associated Press

A Winnebago Indian currently serving a four-year prison term asked the federal district court in Lincoln Wednesday to grant his release on grounds his conviction in a state court was illegal.

George Le Mere, a member of the Winnebago Indian tribe, contended in his petition that treaties between the U.S. government and the tribe were violated by giving a Nebraska court jurisdiction over a Douglas County breaking and entering charge.

The convict asked the court to dismiss the 1967 conviction and four-year prison sentence as well as three other counts of breaking and entering and two of escape from custody dating back to 1949.

Le Mere's petition charged that the U.S. government, in treaties with the Winnebago tribe in 1816 and 1846, guaranteed the tribe "its parental protection."

A federal law passed in 1871 turning over jurisdiction in criminal matters to state courts was thereby unconstitutional, Le Mere said. He said the 1871 law denied him due process of law and the law's equal protection as guaranteed by the 5th and 14th Amendments.

His conviction by a state court "denied (him) the parental protection of the U.S. government and . . . subjected (him) to the power and authority of another sovereign (the State of Nebraska)," Le Mere charged.

"The U.S. government owes the Winnebago the protection of the law of the land, owes them the protection of their constitutional rights, civil rights and Indian rights," Le Mere said.

The petition added: "The State of Nebraska owes them nothing and gives them nothing."

Referring to an earlier conviction of escape from custody, Le Mere noted that his six-year sentence was "six times" the maximum sentence a federal court would have meted out.

"There is no doubt that this was in Indian country, and because petitioner (Le Mere) was without money or friends, came from a lowly environment with the social status of reservation Indian, uncivilized by tribe classification, he was handed a six-year sentence," the petition said.

"It would not happen in the federal court," Le Mere said.

Federal Court Judge Robert Van Pelt ordered Penal Complex Warden Maurice H. Sigler, named as defendant in the petition, to show cause within 10 days why a writ of habeas corpus should not be issued.

Le Mere had originally named both Sigler and the United States of America as defendants, but Van Pelt ruled that the U.S. "is not a proper party to a petition" for a writ of habeas corpus.

Park Service To Take Over Smithsonian Office

The Smithsonian Institution's Lincoln-based research office will be taken over in the near future by the National Park Service, Park Service officials announced Wednesday.

Park Service archaeologist Dr. John Corbett said the Lincoln office will be headed by Dr. Wilford D. Logan, now chief archaeologist at the Midwest Regional Park Service Office in Omaha.

Corbett said the office would probably remain in Lincoln if new suitable quarters can be found. The move is necessary since the lease on the present quarters is expiring, he said.

He said the 16 persons now employed by the Smithsonian will be retained as Park Service employes.

Railroad Signals, Gates Bill Cost Estimated At $12 Million

A bill which requires installation of railroad signals and gates at all crossings on state or federal highways would cost at least $12 million to implement, the Legislature's Public Works Committee was told Wednesday.

State law provides that the costs of installation would be borne 65% by the state, 25% by the railroad and 10% by the local subdivision involved.

The proposal, LB279, was held for later action.

Sen. Leslie Robinson of Kearney said he sponsored the bill to provide the best possible safety protection for the traveling public.

One of every 10 automobile fatalities occurs at a railroad crossing, Robinson said.

Support for the bill was voiced by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Speaking for the union, Leo Smith of Fairbury said approximately 75 of the 474 railroad crossings on state and federal highways are now protected by automatic signals and gates.

At an average cost of at least $30,000, it would require the expenditure of some $12 million to comply with LB279, E. R. Miller, speaking for the railroads, told the committee in opposing the bill.

That kind of cost is "almost breathtaking," he said.

Sole responsibility for maintenance of the signal devices rests with the railroads once their construction is completed, he noted.

Miller spoke in support of an alternative proposal, LB695, which would increase the allocation of gasoline tax revenue to the state grade crossing protection fund from $6,000 to $15,000 a month.

That would provide $180,000 a year for construction of automatic signals at railroad crossings.

LB695, sponsored by Sen. Edward Danner of Omaha, also had the support of the locomotive engineers.

The proposal was held along with LB730, which would require railroads to provide walkways on their bridges for the protection of their employes.

LB730 would cost major railroads in the state about $6.5 million, Miller said.

Walkways are now provided on railroad bridges when needed, he said.

Court Challenge Of Hunting Bill Suggested By Skarda

Sen. William Skarda suggested Wednesday that the bill enacted by the Legislature authorizing ranchers and farmers to hunt deer and antelope on their home property be challenged in court.

The Omaha lawmaker was the lone dissenter on a 40-1 approving vote on LB507, which was called back from the governor's office to add the emergency clause and re-enacted.

Skarda made public an attorney general's opinion which held the bill creates special hunting privileges for "an arbitrarily drawn group of landowners and lessees."

The new law could be successfully challenged on constitutional grounds, Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer said in the opinion.

"There should be no question but that the State of Nebraska and not the landowner owns all the game animals in Nebraska," Skarda was told in the opinion.

Urban Renewal Measure Signed

Gov. Norbert Tiemann Wednesday signed into law the major urban renewal bill enacted last week by the Legislature.

The bill, LB190, directs the Omaha City Council to initiate a limited urban renewal project in South Omaha and permits Lincoln to go ahead with either limited or general urban renewal without a vote of the people.

Under terms of the bill, Omaha's City Council now has 15 days in which to veto the South Omaha project if it so wishes.

LB190 also directs all cities to enact minimum standards housing ordinances by Jan. 1.

Lincoln Native New Homestead Monument Chief

Beatrice (UPI) — Rep. Robert Denney, R-Neb., has announced a native Nebraskan has been selected the new superintendent of the Homestead National Monument, located four miles west of here.

He is John Higgens, 44, presently management assistant at Grand Teton National Park in Wyoming.

Higgens will succeed John Rohn Jr., who has retired.

Higgens was born in Lincoln and lived in Tecumseh and Broken Bow. The World War II veteran is married and the father of four.

State Revenue Bills Could Help City's Street Improvement Program

"Lincoln could really get started on its street improvement program if it gets the anticipated revenues through the highway revenue bills," Robert Obering, city public works director, said Wednesday.

Obering made the comment after the announcement of Sen. Jerome Warner that Lincoln would get $2.6 million in 1970 through the revenue bills now pending in the Legislature.

The public works director said the city is presently unable to keep up with the street improvement program as outlined in a metropolitan transportation study.

He said the programs call for $60 million in expenditures over a 20-year period, or an average of $3 million a year to "stay on top" of the street improvements.

"Street improvement projects include new construction of streets, street widening, channelization and resurfacing," Obering said.

He said the money to pay for these projects comes from state funds and the wheel tax. The city received $894,000 in state aid in 1967.

"You can only do so much with the money available," Obering said.

The $2.6 million plus the $550,000 expected from wheel tax funds will put us over the $3 million mark needed to complete or do the street improvements," the public works director said.

He explained that the mill levy money his department receives is used for the operation and maintenance of the city streets.

Obering said revenues the city receives will have to increase in proportion to rising construction costs if the city is to keep in step with its improvement program.

He said that without the increased revenues as outlined by Sen. Warner, the city could expect only a normal increase of around 3% in state aid for the coming year.

Counties' Share Of Highway Funds Appears 'Acceptable'

By The Associated Press

From the standpoint of the counties, the distribution of highway user funds under proposed legislation appears "more acceptable" than was first thought, the executive secretary of the Nebraska County Officials Association said Wednesday.

Arnold Ruhnke declined, however, to make any more elaborate comment until he has studied fully the report made by Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly on how much each county and city would receive under the enactment of a 16-piece bundle of pending highway legislation.

Sen. Warner and his Legislative Council Highway Study Committee proposed the package.

At first, the counties believed their share would be greatly curtailed.

Generally, Warner's tabulations showed 27 counties would receive more than in 1967 and the rest would get like amounts if a special make-up fund would be approved.

The 537 cities, on the other hand, would receive a total increase of about $14 million.

The executive director of the Nebraska League of Municipalities, Kenneth Bowen, said the additional funds "certainly should put our cities and villages in a position to improve their main traveled road systems immediately and other less traveled roads at a later date."

The fact the counties would not receive the substantial increase which would be enjoyed by cities means counties and cities should consider a consolidation of their road efforts for community centers, Bowen said.

Lancaster County Engineer Walter Hoppe said the county will be able to do less work, even though it would receive a sum identical to 1967, because of higher construction costs and more expensive road building standards.

Washington (UPI) — Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe Wednesday announced he had found no conflict of interest in a $25 million grant made to the Illinois Central Railroad by his predecessor, Alan S. Boyd.

While the grant was under consideration late last year Boyd began negotiating for a $95 thousand a year job as president of the railroad.

Police Break Up Black Panther Bombing Plot

New York (AP) — A Black Panther plot to bomb five Manhattan department stores on Thursday during the Easter shopping rush has been broken up by indictment of 21 members of the militant Negro group, Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said Wednesday.

Twelve of the defendants were arrested and pleaded innocent before Supreme Court Justice Charles Marks. They were held in $100,000 bail each over the objection of their attorneys, who claimed the amount was unconstitutional.

Those in custody included Robert S. Collier, 31, convicted in 1965 of plotting to blow up the Statue of Liberty and other national shrines. Police said Collier was the Black Panther minister of education for the New York area.

Two of those indicted are in prison in New Jersey and the remaining seven are still sought, Hogan told a news conference.

He said the conspirators, intending to damage the white "power structure" on Thursday, plotted to set off bombs in the midtown stores of Macy's, Alexander's, Bloomingdale's, Korvette's and Abercrombie & Fitch, dynamite the tracks of the New Haven branch of the Penn Central Railroad at six locations in Harlem and bomb a police station in the Morrisania section of the Bronx to divert police from the railroad bombings.

Hogan credited city detectives with uncovering the new plot. Police said they confiscated a number of guns, three homemade pipe bombs, a five-pound can of blasting powder, some bomb parts, a knife and a dagger.

Beach House Said Stolen

San Juan, Puerto Rico (AP) — Roberto Fourquet complained to police Wednesday that someone stole his house. He said he had a frame beach house near Ponce and when he went to it Tuesday it was gone.

Deputy City Attorney's Wife Gives Coffee For Candidate

Charles Huff, a candidate for the Lincoln City Council, was the guest of honor at a coffee given by Mrs. Pauline Lindner, the wife of the city's deputy assistant attorney.

City ordinances stipulate that no person in the city service shall engage in any political activity in connection with a city issue to be voted upon or any candidate to be nominated or elected to any city office.

Mrs. Lindner, when questioned about the propriety of a city employe's wife engaging in political activity, indicated her husband had said that it was permissible so long as the "coffee" did not involve himself.

"The coffee was given in my name as Mrs. Pauline Lindner as a gesture of helping an attorney get elected to public office," she said.

Death Sentences Might Not Stand When Juries Restricted

Washington (AP) — The Supreme Court warned anew Wednesday that death sentences cannot stand if opponents of capital punishment are automatically stricken from juries.

It is entirely possible, said Justice Potter Stewart, that a person who has "a fixed opinion" against capital punishment or who does not "believe" in it might nevertheless be perfectly able to consider fairly the imposition of a death sentence in a particular case.

With that pronouncement the court directed a hearing in federal court in Alabama for a young Negro sentenced to be executed in the murder of a state conservation officer.

In other actions, the court:

—Said judges must make sure that defendants know what they are doing when they plead guilty. Chief Justice Earl Warren said judges should "take the few minutes necessary to inform them of their rights."

—Cautioned trial judges against reading pre-sentence reports before the jury reaches a verdict. The unanimous opinion called for strict observance of a federal criminal procedure rule and said defendants' rights could be prejudiced otherwise.

Huntington Library Awards Grant To Union Professor

Dr. Everett Dick, research professor of American history at Union College, has been awarded a grant from the Huntington Library in San Marino, Calif., for research on the frontier woman.

Dick, author of several standard histories and recipient of various other research grants, will carry out his studies for the California library this summer.

The Huntington Library is recognized as a significant collection of books and manuscripts on western frontier history, according to Union College officials.

A Union College alumnus, Dick served as chairman of its history department from 1930-1954 and as research professor of American history since 1956. He has also served as academic dean.

His "Sod House Frontier," a book on the social history of the plains, was chosen by the Organization of American Historians as one of the 20 most important books on American history published between 1930-1950.

Lincolnite Says Latin American Schoolchildren 'Lack Discipline'

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

"Children often seemed very rude to their teachers and extremely noisy," a Lincoln Public School teacher reported about her visits to schools in Central and South America.

"In nearly all of the schools there was a surprising lack of discipline," according to Mrs. Helen Holmes, who recently toured several Latin American countries on a Rotary Club grant.

All but the very poorest children are raised by maids, who are considered by the children to be their inferiors with no disciplinary authority, she explained in an article written for the school district's "Education Insights" publication.

Mrs. Holmes, a fifth grade teacher at Pershing School, spent two weeks in Brazil, one week each in Argentina, Chile, Peru and Mexico and stopovers in Colombia and Venezuela. She was the 1968 recipient of the Lincoln Rotary Club's Pan-American Teacher Emissary Fellowship.

The touring teacher found that "maids are cheap labor. But in countries like Chile and Argentina where industry is developing, there are fewer and fewer household servants."

She said that "even people of moderate means need to have two or three maids because they don't have the household appliances and time-saving prepared foods that we take for granted."

South American schools were "amazingly good" in settled areas, she discovered. "They use similar teaching methods and have similar curriculum content. But in the very poor country areas, the children don't attend schools at all."

Low Pay

In the very poor public schools, the normal training for teachers is two years of education in place of high school, according to Mrs. Holmes. She noted that pay for teachers is very low, and most of them hold additional jobs to support their families.

The Pershing instructor took tape-recorded greetings and pictures of her fifth grade class to the Latin American schools she visited. The natives were eager to be recorded for the Nebraskans, she added.

After her six-week tour Mrs. Holmes declared that "all these nations need good government so badly." She said that people with whom she talked frequently mentioned the "fear Americans have of communism. They always hastened to tell me that they too disapproved of communism.

'Might Help'

"But, as a Peace Corps worker in Peru told me, communism might actually help the people who are terribly poor. At the same time, he had pointed out that the wealthy oligarchy is not likely to endorse democracy," she said.

Mrs. Holmes contended that "people in the underdeveloped areas are bound to get tired of the high and mighty American showing them how to do things, but the Peace Corps has been very successful in its work there."

Since her return, Mrs. Holmes has been teaching Latin American studies to all Pershing fifth graders and will prepare an audio-visual teaching kit on South America for use in all schools.

Rev. Koontz To Lecture At NWU

The Rev. Donald H. Koontz of Simpson College will give the final lecture in the Nebraska Wesleyan series on "The Future of Religion in a Secular Age."

He will discuss "Social and Religious Implications of the Aerospace Age" at a 10:00 a.m. Friday in the O'Donnell Auditorium.

Rev. Koontz has been head of the sociology department at Simpson since 1952. He entered the ministry in 1944 after working at farming and in the trucking and coal business.

He has pioneered in adopting the ministry to the space age and has conducted aerospace institutes for pastors and college personnel since 1961. He had a grant to tour NASA space centers with a view to writing in the field of the social implications of the space programs.

Arguments Set For Friday On Alvarez Motion

Lancaster District Judge Bartlett Boyles Friday will hear arguments on a motion filed Dec. 17 on behalf of convicted murderer Thomas A. Alvarez.

Alvarez, who is scheduled to die in the electric chair June 3, had pleaded guilty to the 1966 rape-murder of Mrs. Mary O'Shea.

The four-point motion asks the court to allow Alvarez to change his plea from guilty to innocent, that the death penalty be removed and that a sentence of life be imposed. The motion further seeks a post conviction hearing.

6 Union Students Are Accepted At Medical School

Six Union College students have been accepted at the Loma Linda University School of Medicine in California.

Olivia Chung of Singapore will take occupational therapy training. Linda Mondragon of Simi, Calif., will enter the medical records administration training.

More Than $4,000 Collected For Girl

More than $4,000 has been collected for a 19-year-old Lincoln girl's life-or-death operation, according to Women in Community Service (WICS), which is sponsoring the drive to collect the money needed to send Janice Burton to a Minnesota hospital.

The fund must reach at least $5,000, which is needed in advance for post-operative care costs.

A spokesman for WICS said that one donation Wednesday was a check for $150 from an ill war veteran in North Dakota.

Science-Fiction Robot Comes To Life

© New York Times Service

Schenectady, N.Y. — Ralph S. Mosher, a lanky, white-haired engineer who for nearly 15 years has been devising sets of electro-hydraulic "muscles" that would make supermen of ordinary workers, showed off a principal result of his labors Wednesday.

The device, a 3,000-pound, 11-foot-high walking machine that lumbers along on four legs at 5 miles an hour, lifts 500-pound loads with ease and kicks aside 175-pound wooden beams as if they were matchsticks, in effect multiplies the strength of a man's arms and legs.

In function, it is possibly the nearest thing to a classic science-fiction robot yet devised; except that its metal limbs are coupled directly to the brain and senses of a man sitting inside, rather than to a computerized brain and artificial senses.

The machine automatically mimics the movements of the man's arms and legs and the man "feels" the machine's movements just as if he himself were walking.

Device Shown At Plant

The first public demonstration of the machine took place at the Schenectady plant of the General Electric Co. which developed the device under a $1 million contract it entered into with the Army three years ago.

Mosher, a GE employe, climbed into a seat inside the walking machine, which distantly resembles a mechanical elephant. His feet were fastened to pedals that would activate the machine's hind legs, while he would move two levers to manipulate the front legs.

"I guess we can fire it up," Mosher said, and hydraulic oil began flowing into the machine's limbs from a nearby tank, building up quickly to a pressure of 3,000 pounds per square inch.

The clanking, squeaking Mosher-machine combination then walked across the floor; balanced on two legs; partially climbed a pile of 175-pound timbers and posed, like a circus elephant, with one forefoot in the air; dismantled the pile of timbers with a few flicks of its foot; playfully kicked some grains to a red-dish sand that covered the floor at a photographer; and balanced with its front feet on a timber.

Although the demonstration did not show it, GE officials said that during tests the walking machine lifted a small military vehicle out of a mudhole, hoisted a 500-pound load onto a truck with one foot, und skidded a 1,000-pound load across the ground.

Man Balances Machine

"Three years ago there was a question as to whether a man could balance the machine," Mosher told newsmen, adding that some studies had concluded flatly that it couldn't be done. "Our purpose was to show feasibility," he said. "We've done that."

The walking device is one form of what Mosher calls the "Cybernetic Anthropomorphous Machine," or CAM for short. Their potential uses, officials of both the Army and General Electric said include the handling of heavy materials in industry, underwater and space exploration, and cross-country transportation.

Other forms of CAMs include an "exoskeleton," or framework of mechanical muscles that an upright man "wears." Mosher said the development of a prototype is about three-quarters complete.

"The Army is interested in the walking machine as a means of speeding up the flow of heavy materials and supplies across the irregular terrain," said Ronald A. Liston, chief of land locomotion studies for the U.S. Army Tank Automotive Command in Warren, Mich. Liston and Mosher are working together on the machine.

As described by Mosher, the walking machine works this way:

The man's feet are connected to the rear legs, and his hands to the front legs, by mechanical-hydraulic means. When, for example, he moves his own leg, the flow of hydraulic oil in the mechanical leg is altered. The change in quantity and pressure of the oil makes the machine's leg move, and the flow of oil is channeled so that the mechanical leg moves in whatever direction the man's leg is moved.

E (for engineering) Week activities include an open house, a convocation, an awards banquet and a day of athletic competition between the students in the various departments of the college.

The open house, at which applications of engineering techniques will be displayed through a variety of student-made exhibits, will be from 7 to 10 p.m. on Wednesday, April 23, and 2 to 10 p.m. on Thursday, April 24.

Ferguson Hall on the City Campus will be the hub of activities. About 10,000 visitors are expected.

Jim Sherman of Marquette and L. Tom vans of Omaha are cochairmen of E-Week activities.

Nelson To Head Ordinance Group For Law Officers

Ralph Nelson, corporation counsel for the city of Lincoln, has been appointed chairman of the Committee on Ordinances and Ordinance Enforcement of the National Institute of Municipal Law Officers.

Nelson received word of his appointment this week from Thomas M. O'Conner, president of the 1,500-member organization of municipal attorneys.

The former Lincoln city attorney has been an offecr in the national organization for the last seven years and was elected as a trustee at the last annual conference.

Judith Anderson To Give Reading At Convocation

Actress Judith Anderson will present a series of selected poetry readings at the University of Nebraska's 41st honors convocation April 22 in the coliseum on the Lincoln City Campus, the University reported Wednesday.

The convocation is held each year to honor students who rank in the top 10% of their respective classes.

Miss Anderson received an Emmy Award for her performance in "Lady Macbeth" and has starred in a number of Shakespearean plays and movies.

Russian Still Held

Cape Town, South Africa (AP) — Police Minister Louwrens Muller told Parliament that confessed Soviet spy Yuri Loginov, arrested in 1967, is still being detained. Muller said it was not in the public interest to comment further and refused to say whether Loginov asked for political asylum.

Missile Plan Called Kennel Of Watchdog

Washington (UPI) —Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., Wednesday likened the plans for an antiballistic missile (ABM) system to "building a kennel to house a watchdog to guard the kennel."

Hart said the system would be partly preoccupied with defending itself, since its exposed radars would be protected with its own missiles.

"Thus in a sense, it becomes its own reason for being," Hart, a longtime foe of ABM deployment, said in a statement.

Spending Favored

Washington — A survey shows that during 1967 the average U.S. senator received 28,625 pro-spending leters.

Nugent, LBJ's Son-In-Law, Returns Home From Vietnam

Austin, Tex. (AP) — Airman 1C Patrick J. Nugent came home from Vietnam Wednesday welcomed by a snappy salute from his young son and an enthusiastic bear hug from his attractive wife Luci.

"Marvelous, marvelous, marvelous," said ex President Lyndon B. Johnson's son-in-law with tears of happiness in his eyes.

Johnson stood to one side, beaming happily, occasionally putting his arm around Mrs. Johnson.

Nugent's happy tumultuous arrival at the Austin Municipal Airport followed long hours on a troop transport plane and later a commercial airliner. He left Saigon Wednesday morning.

Nugent, who has completed his stint in uniform, will be discharged soon at nearby Bergstrom Air Force Base but he did not know the exact date.

Reporters asked Nugent how it felt to be back. "It's the most wonderful thing in the world," he replied, rubbing a stubby chin that needed a shave.

Nugent received the Distinguished Flying Cross while loadmaster of a C123 in Vietnam. An Air Force spokesman said the twin-engine transport had 55 soldiers of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division aboard when it came under mortar attack. But Nugent and the other crew members accomplished their mission "without battle damage or crew injury", the citation said.

At a change of planes at Dallas, Nugent looked tired but smiling. He said he would return to Austin to work at the Johnson-owned radio-television station.

Chinese Release 2 Yachts

Hong Kong (AP) — Two of three yachts seized by Red Chinese seven weeks ago sailed into Hong Kong waters Thursday after being released by Communist authorities.

Government spokesmen said 13 persons — including two Americans — were accounted for aboard the yachts, the Reverie and the Uin-Na-Mara.

But there was no immediate word on what happened to the third captured vessel, the Morasum, and missing Americans Simon Baldwin and Bessie Hope Donald.

A government spokesman said the Reverie and the Uin-Na-Mara had been sighted and contacted by a marine launch and helicopter patrol entering Hong Kong waters from Macao, the Portuguese colony 40 miles west of here.

A marine launch official radioed headquarters that the two yachts carried two Americans — 10-year-old Carol Zinky, stepdaughter of Hector Ross, a Hong Kong British government official; and Mrs. Joan von Sydow, American-born wife of C. F. von Sydow, a Swedish businessman.

Peking Party Congress Called 'A Maoist Farce'

New York Times Service

Moscow — In its first authoritative reaction, to the Soviet Union Wednesday night called the ninth Communist Party congress in Peking "a Maoist farce" that had nothing in common with the Chinese Communist Party.

Izvestia, the government newspaper, said in an article written in Moscow that the genuine leaders of China's Communist Party "were routed" by Mao Tse-tung's followers in the three-year cultural revolution.

To demonstrate its contempt for the congress, Izvestia put the ninth party congress in quotation marks.

It has been a Soviet contention long before the congress opened Tuesday that Mao and his "clique" no longer had anything in common with communism but instead were masquerading behind the party colors.

Izvestia said the delegates to the congress "were not elected, of course, but appointed by Mao's emissaries from among specially picked people."

It claimed that the recent border incidents with the Soviet Union were created to facilitate "the consolidation of the nation" before the congress met.

Izvestia said two-thirds of the Chinese Communist Party central committee had been "repressed" during the cultural revolution.

Egypt Says It Would Accept Package Deal

By The Associated Press

An Egyptian government spokesman said in Cairo Wednesday Egypt does not insist on withdrawal of Israeli troops from occupied lands as a precondition for settlement of the Middle East dispute.

"Egypt is ready to accept a settlement as a package deal," Mohamed Hassan el Zayyat told his weekly news conference. He did not elaborate.

He made the statement on the eve of secret Big Four meetings in New York on how to settle the Arab-Israeli dispute. Diplomats at U.N. headquarters saw little hope for an early settlement.

The United States and Britain split with the Soviet Union and France Tuesday night in a vote on a resolution that condemned Israel for last week's attack on a Jordanian village. Russia and France voted for the resolution, which passed 11 to 0, and the United States and Britain abstained.

Zayyat declared the United Nations should stop just condemning Israel "and start acting."

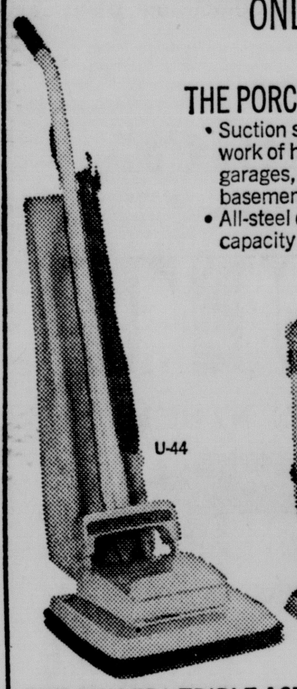

In Paris, King Hussein of Jordan told newsmen he was "optimistic" about the four-power talks on the Middle East. He spoke after conferring with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Hussein leaves Sunday for the United States and talks with President Nixon on the Middle East crisis.

Several School Offices To Move During PSAB Remodeling Work

Several offices will be moved out of the Public School Administration Building at 22nd and Randolph while remodeling continues on the second and third floor, Supt. John Prasch announced.

Offices of the directors of pupil services and special education and most subject area consultants will be moved to the Park School auditorium beginning this weekend, it was reported.

Park School has another room that can be used for meetings, and some large school programs will be held at Everett Junior High during the remodeling, according to Prasch.

Some of the remodeling will be completed by next fall so that officials temporarily housed at Park will be able to get out before school starts, he said.

The remodeling on the second and third floors will be similar to the alterations recently finished on the first floor. Small rooms and large hallways of the former school building will be converted into large open spaces.

"We have found great efficiencies" as a result of the first floor remodeling in which secretaries sit in the corridor areas, the superintendent said. School officials have started sharing secretarial services and developed "better team operations."

Offices for helping teachers and speech therapists have been temporarily moved to the Elliott School Title I speech and reading center.

The nursing director has been moved to Hayward School where most of her summer work will be located anyway, it was reported.

The professional library and music consultants are now in the PSAB auditorium, which has closed that room for use temporarily.

Adult Education officers will be moved into the newly-constructed PSAB cafeteria until the rest of the building is completed.

Chinese Cheer Party Congress

Belgrade, Yugoslavia (AP) — Several million cheering Chinese marched through Peking's streets early Wednesday celebrating the opening of the Chinese Communist party's ninth congress, Tanjug news agency reported.

The report from Peking said some of the people carried sunflowers, a symbol of loyalty to party Chairman Mao Tse-tung, and others carried his portrait.

U.N. Command Urges Meeting

Seoul (UPI) —The United Nations Command (UNC) Wednesday proposed that the 288th meeting of the Korean Military Armistice Commission be held Saturday.

The UNC did not disclose the reason for calling the meeting. It said no reply was immediately received from North Korea.

Hardin Shifts Galbraith, Hansen

Washington (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin announced Wednesday a departmental job switch involving two high level Nixon administration appointees.

Hardin said George V. Hansen, 38, deputy undersecretary for congressional relations, will trade posts with William E. Galbraith, 43, Beemer, Neb., a deputy administrator for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Both men were appointed in January to their present jobs, which pay $30,239 a year each.

Hardin's announcement said the move was made to suit the interests of the two officials.

He said Hansen, a former Idaho congressman, originally had requested a job "where he could gain administrative experience" in the department.

Hardin said Hansen's new assignment, in which he will be in charge of state and county operations, would meet his request. He added that Hansen "has served admirably" as the department's congressional liaison representative.

Hardin, who came here from Lincoln, Neb., said Galbraith had expressed an interest in working with congressional affairs and that "the Nebraska background we share in common should be most helpful" in establishing good relations with Capitol Hill.

No Secrets In Haute Cuisine

Just in case you hadn't noticed, the secrets of cooking with wine are out, and Americans are getting out of their traditional "meat and potatoes" routine.

From coast to coast, people are enjoying more exotic fare. A few years ago, Boeuf Bourguignon (beef burgundy) was found on few menus, and in even fewer homes. Now it's a national favorite. Pierre Franey, executive chef of a national chain of restaurants, says that the dish is one of the restaurant chain's most popular items.

"Call it French cooking, haute cuisine, gourmet dining or what have you", he said, "it all boils down to one thing: Americans are eating better than ever before. The secrets of international cooking are no longer secret."

Most of the techniques of classic continental cooking can be learned by anyone willing to experiment with wines and spices. To enhance a dish with wine, try adding a tablespoon of medium-dry sherry to each serving of canned black bean or mushroom soup.

Franey said that there is a very good, but little known, reason for cooking with wine. "Gourmet cooking can actually cost less than plain cooking," he said. "For instance, the next time you broil steak, try buying a slightly cheaper cut than you usually use. Then marinate the meat in red wine for an hour before you put it on the grill or broiler. The wine tenderizes the meat at the same time it gives it a better flavor.

BOEUF BOURGUIGNON

2 pounds top round of beef
¼ cup of flour
¼ cup butter
1 teaspoon salt (or to taste)
1 bay leaf
½ teaspoon instant minced garlic
¼ cup chopped parsley
½ cup carrots sliced
2 cups beef stock
1¼ cup burgundy or other dry red wine
12 small white onions
¾ teaspoon thyme leaves
½ teaspoon black pepper
1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms (if not available canned or dried will do)
1 tablespoon butter

Trim meat, and cut into 1-inch cubes. Roll in flour and brown in the butter melted in a saucepan. Stir in remaining flour and cook 1 minute. Add the next 7 ingredients. Cover and simmer until the meat is almost tender, about 1¾ hours.

Peel the onions and add them to the beef during the last half hour of cooking time. Then add the thyme and pepper. Saute the mushrooms in a tablespoon of butter and add. Cover and cook another 5 minutes. Add the remaining ¼ cup of wine just before removing from heat. This makes 6 servings.

To demonstrate how easily the wine snob rules are broken, here, for example, is a favorite classic country French recipe. Here chicken, usually served with white wine, is flamed with brandy and cooked in red wine. Don't let the complicated sounding recipe throw you. It's simpler to prepare than it looks.

COQ AU VIN

3 pound chicken
½ cup flour
½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
¾ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons cooking oil
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped onion
1 cup smoked ham cut into cubes
1 bay leaf
½ teaspoon thyme leaves
¼ teaspoon instant minced garlic
1½ teaspoons salt (or to taste)
2 whole cloves
13 small white onions
12 small mushroom caps
¼ cup brandy
1¼ cups dry red wine
1½ tablespoons flour

Dredge the cut up chicken in flour mixed with salt and nutmeg. Brown in the butter and cooking oil, adding oil as needed. Remove chicken to a casserole. Then saute the onion and celery in the pan drippings. Stir in the next 5 ingredients, mix well and pour over the chicken. Stick 2 cloves in one of the onions and add it to the casserole along with the rest of the onions and the mushrooms. Warm the brandy, pour it over the chicken and ignite. As the flames burn down, add 1 cup of the wine. Cover and cook in a pre-heated oven (325 degrees F.) for an hour and a half, or until the chicken is tender. Blend the flour with the remaining ¼ cup of wine and add. Stir and cook until it has the desired thickness.

If you're still feeling fancy and French after all that, here are some dessert ideas that are haute cuisine in mood, but take only a few extra minutes to prepare. "They're all based on ice cream" Franey said.

Puree raspberries, either fresh or frozen, in a blender. Add a bit of Grand Marnier or kirsh, or a touch of both, and serve over strawberry sherbet or strawberry ice cream. Top with whipped cream and decorate with whole raspberries.

Here's one that's almost as American as apple pie, but with both French and German influences. Flavor chilled chunky applesauce with cinnamon and calvados, that delightful apple brandy from Normandy. Lightly fold in heavy whipped cream and spoon over apple strudel ice cream.

"For a party, I like to mound different flavors of balled ice cream and sherbet on an elegant silver epergne," said Franey. "Decorate the mound with whipped cream and fresh fruit and have several fruit-and-liqueur toppings on hand. Let each guest pick his ice cream and toppings to mix or match as the mood strikes him."

Date Tea Cake

Despite the fact that you weren't expecting company, you certainly want to have something special and delicious to serve them. Here is a recipe for Date Tea Cake, that is simple to make and scrumptious to eat.

½ teaspoon vanilla
2 Cups sifted flour
1 8-oz. package Imported diced dates, or whole dates, cut up
¾ cup brown sugar
2 eggs
½ cup butter
Powdered sugar

Cream the butter and brown sugar.

Add the eggs, one at a time, beating after each addition.

Add vanilla and mix well.

Add the flour all at once; blend until sticky dough is formed.

Add dates and mix until well dispersed throughout the mixture. (This may be done with a mix-master.)

Spread the mixture evenly in a 1" x 15" cookie sheet with sides.

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Bake 20-25 minutes until lightly browned and firm.

Try This Quick Cheese Cake

Everyone — and no one is immune — is faced at times with unexpected guests, or a special family event, or just the urge to be a bit more creative. For that unexpected — or special — moment, here is a quick but festive cheese cake.

CRUMB CRUSH

1½ cups finely rolled crumbs (vanilla or chocolate wafers)
1-3 cup melted butter

CHEESE FILLING

1 can (1 lb.) crushed pineapple.
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 box regular vanilla pudding mix (not instant)
2 cups small curd cottage cheese
2 eggs, separated
¼ cup heavy cream
Candied cherries and pineapple (garnish)

Combine cookie crumbs and butter; press into the bottom and up the sides (about 1 inch) of a 9-inch spring-form pan; chill.

Drain juice from pineapple into a 2-cup measure; add milk to make 2 cups. Combine pudding mix and unflavored gelatin in a saucepan; stir in pineapple juice-milk mixture and egg yolks. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and boils 1 minute; remove from heat; cool.

Stir in cottage cheese and crushed pineapple.

Beat egg whites until foamy, gradually beat in ¼ cup sugar, continue beating until meringue forms soft peaks. Beat cream until stiff. Fold meringue into cheese mixture, then cream; pour into prepared crust. Chill until firm.

Garnish with cherries and pineapple slices.

Makes 8 to 10 servings.

The Tempting Mushroom Temptingly Low In Calories

It's one of the facts of life that overweight and aging are usually linked. If we lead the comfortable life normal to most Americans we are likely to put on a few pounds every year until we're shocked one day by the pointer on the scale. Unfortunately, those unwanted pounds make us look older, less lively.

The air is filled with quick remedies, but the obvious answer is still best: Eat fewer calories daily — about 700 fewer per day at 65 than at 25 for a man who weighed 154 pounds in his mid-twenties; 500 calories less for a woman of 65 who was a lissome cutie of 127 pounds in her hey-hey day.

Eating less is one solution, but along with it learn to be an expert on the "smart" foods. Take mushrooms for example. In spite of their tempting flavor and texture, mushrooms fresh, canned or frozen, are very low in calories — less than 100 per pound if taken "neat". They can be simmered in vegetable juice or bouillon or seasoned with a pinch of one spice or another and still remain calorie bargains.

When preparing fresh mushrooms, don't peel. This is a waste of time and good mushroom flavor. Do rinse quickly and pat dry if they are to be sauteed. (Naturally, sauteing applies only to those who can afford the extra fat calories.)

Canned mushrooms are ready to use and need only draining — unless the liquid can be used in a sauce. Heat briefly.

Frozen mushrooms, too, are ready to use, but give them a minute longer cooking time than the four or five minutes needed for fresh mushrooms.

BAKED CHICKEN ELDORADO
(Low Calorie)

2 chickens (2½ lb. each), Cut into serving size pieces
1 can (6 to 8 oz.; sliced mushrooms
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
1 cup coarsely chopped Celery
½ cup finely chopped onion
1 clove garlic, finely minced
2 teaspoons salt
1½ teaspoons Italian seasoning
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper

Place chickens in a baking pan. Brown in a preheated very hot oven (500 F.) for 15 minutes, turning once. Reduce oven heat to moderate (350 F.). Transfer chickens and pan drippings to an ovenproof casserole. In a small saucepan combine mushrooms with remaining ingredients; bring to boiling point. Reduce heat and simmer 10 minutes; pour over chicken. Cover and bake 45 minutes or until chicken is tender.

YIELD: 6 portions

GALA MUSHROOM TUNA SALAD
(Low Calorie)

½ pound fresh mushrooms or 1 can (6 to 8 oz.) sliced mushrooms
1 can (7 oz.) water pack tuna fish, drained and flaked
½ cup thinly sliced celery
1 small tomato, diced
½ cup tomato juice
4 teaspoons lemon juice
¼ cup finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
¼ small clove garlic, crushed
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground white pepper

Rinse, pat dry and slice fresh mushrooms (makes about 2½ cups) or drain canned mushrooms. In a salad bowl combine mushrooms with tuna, celery and tomato. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over mushroom mixture; toss gently. Serve on lettuce leaf, garnished with parsley sprigs, if desired.

YIELD: 4 portions

Spareribs, Anyone?

OZARK RIBS

Buy 1 pound of spareribs per person, which means you will need 10 pounds of ribs for 10 people. Have the butcher cut the meat into individual ribs.

Spread ribs in roasting pan, meaty side up; sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Roast in hot oven, 450 degrees, 30 minutes.

Drain off all excess fat and top ribs with 1 thinly sliced lemon and 1 thinly sliced onion. Spread your favorite bottled barbecue sauce, or sweet and sour sauce over ribs and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 1½ hours, or until well done.

Makes 10 servings.

NU Coed Is Bride

The chancel of the First Presbyterian Church was lighted by clusters of white candles for the Tuesday evening, April 2, wedding of Miss Kathleen Wendelin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wendelin, and George Q. Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Mills of Overland Park, Kan. The ceremony was solemnized at 7 o'clock by Dr. Glover Leitch, and Russell Blackmer, organist, played the wedding music.

Floor-length, Empire frocks of textured silk and wool in spring pink, fashioned with long, chiffon sleeves, were chosen for Miss Janet Wendelin, who was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Vicki Cordell, Kansas City, Mo., Miss Lorraine Knudtson and Miss Cheryl Artz. They carried nosegays of white and pink sweetheart roses and daisies.

Phil Brown served Mr. Mills as best man, and seating the guests were Bill Schernikau, Council Bluffs, Iowa, Bob Maxwell and John Brown. The groomsmen were Rod Peterson of Denver, and Dennis Schafer.

The bride's gown of Schiffli-embroidered white organza was designed in the skimmer silhouette. The embroidered daisy motif banded the high throatline and cuffed the long, full sleeves, and petite appliques of the daisies patterned her train-length veil of silk illusion which was held to the head by a bandeau of the embroidered blossoms. She carried a cascade of white orchids.

Mr. Mills and his bride will make their home at 2405 Washington. Mrs. Mills is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority at the University of Nebraska, where the bridegroom is a senior. He is a former student at Colorado State University, Ft. Collins, Colo.

Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Perry this morning are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Susan, to John Douglas Schleis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schleis, on Wednesday, March 12. The service was solemnized at Marysville, Kan.

Mr. and Mrs. Schleis plan to make their home in Lincoln.

The bridegroom is a student at John F. Kennedy College in Wahoo.

It's A Busy Week In Suburbia

In his book "Through the Looking Glass," author Lewis Carroll describes a place where "it takes all the running you can do, to keep in the same place. If you want to get somewhere else, you must run at least twice as fast as that!" Our running-twice-as-fast award this week goes to the residents of Lincoln's various suburban neighborhoods. As to whether or not they have been getting anywhere — well, if progress can be measured in terms of interesting activities, we must say that they have been taking giant steps forward!

For Bishop Heights residents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hoig, last weekend was a very busy one with entertaining high on their list of priorities. Arriving in Lincoln for a brief stay were Mr. and Mrs. Hoig's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoig and children, Ollie, Andy and Noel, of Omaha. On Sunday afternoon, Mr. Ivan Hoig's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hoig, joined the two families for a double birthday celebration. The honorees were Ivan Hoig, who observes his birthday on March 24, and his father, who does his celebrating on March 27.

We understand that Robert Hoig returned to Omaha, while Mrs. Hoig and the children stayed on for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Hoig, and Mrs. Robert Hoig's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cooper.

A bit of traveling took Bethany Park Heights residents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Merrill, away from Lincoln for several days last week. Mr. and Mrs. Merrill motored to Dallas, Tex., where on Wednesday they attended an honors convocation at Southern Methodist University. Their primary interest in the convocation was their daughter, Corinne, a junior in pre-med, who was among the honorees.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill also enjoyed sightseeing and meeting some of their daughter's friends; and we understand that Corinne, a 1966 graduate of Lincoln Northeast High School, returned to Lincoln with her parents where she is spending her spring vacation.

Visitors last weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Johnson were Mrs. Johnson's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Long of Newman Grove. During their brief stay, Mr. and Mrs. Long also visited with their daughters, Miss Janice Long and Miss Claire Long, and on Friday evening, the two young ladies were hostesses at a dinner for their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Miss Joan Long of Wayne, and Miss Jean Sanders, also of Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Goeschel were host and hostess last weekend at a family dinner honoring their daughter, Miss Judy Goeschel, who was confirmed Sunday at Trinity Lutheran Church.

Included in the Sunday afternoon gathering were Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Burns and children, Gary, Christie and Lorie of Kimballcrest, Judy's sister, Kathy Goeschel, Ron Uribe, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kreick and son, Gary, Mrs. Henry Bauer, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hempel, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmidt, and Mr. and Mrs. Simon Schmidt.

Right now we'd like to leave all of the comings and goings on the Lincoln social scene for a moment while we take time to introduce one very appealing recent addition to the suburban population.

The newest resident at the 5030 Woodland home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Slothower is Miss Debora Sue Slothower who made her debut on March 11, at Providence Hospital. Upon arrival, the young lady weighed in at a very feminine seven pounds, five and one-half ounces. On hand a few days later to extend homecoming greetings to her was her "big" brother, Dale Kenneth Slothower, 2.

Also very happy to welcome the new member into the family were Debora's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gillespie, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Slothower, all of Lincoln.

PEO Meeting

An afternoon meeting has been planned for the members of Chapter FF, PEO, who will meet at 1 o'clock, Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Stanley McDill in Waverly.

The program will be given by the Rev. Robert Janacek.

Guests

The Busybelle Extension Club entertained guests at the group's meeting, recently at the home of Mrs. Carrol Kettlehut.

The guests included Mrs. Michael Booth, Mrs. Eugene Brockemeyer, Mrs. Kenneth Rose, Mrs. William Wallace, Mrs. Dee Ehrlich and Mrs. Mark Booth.

The program, "Pictures for Your Home", was presented by Mrs. Everett Hodtwalker and Mrs. Donald McGinnis.

Mrs. Harold Kayser will be hostess to the club on Thursday, April 17.

Club Tour

Following a luncheon in Omaha last Monday, the members of the Nebraska Unicameral Ladies Club toured the Joslyn Art Museum.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Orval Keyes of Papillion, and Mrs. Richard Proud of Omaha, and Omaha guests included Mrs. Monte Taylor, Mrs. Mark Vanderloo, Mrs. Jim Moylan, Mrs. Joe Moylan, Mrs. Pat Moylan, Mrs. Frank Wolfe, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. Ford Jacobsen and Mrs. Jack Cavanaugh.

Also guests of the club were Mrs. Dale Wismer of Alvo, and from Lincoln, Mrs. Tim Wollin, Mrs. Joe Hadwick, Mrs. George Round, Mrs. H. K. Diers and Miss Marjorie Simpson.

The club will meet for a 12:30 o'clock luncheon on Monday, April 14, again in Omaha. Hostesses will be Mrs. Henry Pedersen, Jr., and Mrs. George Syas of Omaha.

Rita's MAILBOX

Dear Rita: I read your column every time it's in the paper and enjoy it very much. I am sending you directions for the IBM card wreath. Hope you can understand the directions. I also hope Rita's Mailbox continues in the paper. As ever, Mrs. Leslie Hartley, Hebron, Nebraska.

Thank you, very much, Mrs. Hartley. I have wanted these directions for a long time. I am sure that our readers will welcome them, too. However, I am not going to use them in the column until fall as I am afraid that many people may lose them before they get a chance to use them if I put them in the column now. So, look for the instructions on how to make the IBM card Christmas Wreath when Jack Frost makes his return.

Dear Rita: I also enjoy your column very much and am always looking for it.

The Santa Claus toilet seat cover may be ordered from Lee Wards. However, I do not see it in the newest catalog, but no doubt it will be offered again in the fall catalog.

Is the Craft Place located in Lincoln: The one mentioned by Mrs. Eleanor James?

Will you also give the name of the Hobby Magazine sent in by Vietta M. Card of Greenwood?

I have a lot of Christmas ideas that I plan to send to you soon. It includes: Turning discards into decorations; making a Creche; recipes and other things.

I'm wondering if there were very many who were interested in the little rocker made from a soup can which I sent to you more than a year ago? Sincerely, Mrs. W. J., of Wilber.

Thank you, Mrs. W. J., for your nice letter. We shall look forward to receiving your ideas. We can always use lots of ideas. We did have a few requests for the little rocker chair. We have no idea how many may have cut out the instructions. We do not have instruction sheets to send out.

Dear Rita: I've a habit of hoarding newspaper clippings and among others I found recently, among my litter of things to do someday, was one which said that it is so easy to get a beautiful foliage plant by placing a sweet potato or yam in a jar of water and just waiting a short while. It was said that the sweet potato plants are green, while the yams have a purplish cast. So — I bought one yam at the grocery store, found a pretty glass that was tall enough and dunked the yam. That was at least a month or longer ago.

The yam quickly sprouted long white hairy sprouts in the water and now it really has a lot of these sprouts. I'm getting tired of looking at that lovely glass filled with one skinny sweet potato covered with "hair" and I am about to give the yam a good throwing away, but wonder if maybe I put the darned thing upside down in the glass.

Do you suppose any of your readers could be an expert on yams, and would be so kind as to tell us if there is a right and wrong end to place topmost, or whether my yam is normal and will eventually start shooting out all those lovely blue-purple-green leaves that sounded so wonderful? Would appreciate any information you or anyone can furnish on this great theme!

Your column is always interesting. I always enjoy it. Sincerely, Jane Vaughn, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Come on, you readers. I know that some of you are experts on raising plants, so please come to Mrs. Vaughn's rescue. She will be very grateful and so will others who would like to try a yam plant.

Send your hints and ideas to Rita in care of The Lincoln Star. Send your real name but if you would rather we didn't use it send a pen name also.

Opening lead — queen of spades.

You don't have to be a good mathematician to be a good card player. In most hands all you have to know is how to count to 13.

Take this deal where West leads the Q-J of spades, which hold, and shifts to the three of hearts. It is certainly reasonable at this point to assume that West started with two spades and East with five.

South wins the heart with the ace and leads a club to the queen. East takes the ace and returns a spade, West discarding a heart.

When South now plays a club to the king, West discards a diamond. Of course, declarer does not see West's hand, but it is nonetheless clear that West started with precisely two spades and one club. Declarer likewise knows that West originally had ten cards in hearts and diamonds — and has discarded one of each so far.

South still doesn't know how many diamond tricks he could win by cashing the A-K-Q, but he is in position to guarantee the contract. He can compel West to reveal his distribution and then take advantage of this knowledge to assure three notrump.

He does so by first cashing the K-Q of hearts. When East shows out, South has a complete reading of West's hand. West started with two spades, five hearts, one club, and hence five diamonds.

West's last five cards must therefore consist of one heart and four diamonds. (By this time South has one club and four diamonds.)

So, after cashing the queen of diamonds, declarer leads dummy's five of hearts in order to force a diamond return from West into the A-K-10, and in that way he guarantees three notrump.

This process of counting out a hand can be very profitable if a player is both willing and anxious to indulge in the exercise. It is never necessary to go beyond the number 13.

Abby: this soldier will ask for another hitch!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am really worried about my son in Viet Nam. He's been there nearly a year and has four girls waiting for him back in the States.

He writes them all that he "loves" them and is going to marry them when he gets home. All these girls have sent him cigarets, goodies, stationery, radios, watches, tapes, etc. (He tells them what he wants, and they send it.)

These girls do not know each other, but they ALL telephone me when they hear from my son, and they read me parts of his letter. One girl in particular is lovely. She's asked me to help her with her "wedding" plans. Should I tell this girl what is going on? And should I tell my son I know what he's doing?

SOILDER'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Don't tell the girl, but DO tell your son that not only does he have four girls waiting for him, he may have four sets of parents waiting for him. But don't be surprised if he decides to sign up for another hitch.

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman in my late forties who has kept company for three years with a man of about 60. We had a sort of "understanding," but nothing definite was said about marriage.

Well, suddenly a 19-year-old kid turns up from out of nowhere, and this friend of mine has sure taken a shine to him. Now he says he is going to ADOPT him. Is this possible?

JUST ASKING

DEAR JUST: Almost anything is possible. Adoption laws vary from state to state, but one thing is standard. Before anyone is allowed to adopt a child (this is a child?) there will be a thorough investigation and a lot of questions asked.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Low Angeles, Calif., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

POSTCARD by Stan Dolaplane

Spring in the garden. At last, at last. Fell to reading "The Naked Ape"—a fascinating book — and found that walking on two legs made vast changes in Man.

When the first man stood up, it must have caused quite a stir in the community.

"What are you, some kind of a nut?" asked his wife. She was down on all fours, grubbing up grubs.

"Just looking around," said the first standing man. Probably embarrassed, for he did not really know why he was standing up. "It's a nice view from up here."

By and by, all men began to stand up. And their wives said: "There you are out all day, running around with heaven knows who. And me down on all fours scrubbing the floor."

Standing up changed man entirely. (Some mighty fascinating changes, too. But I don't want to spoil the ending.)

"Been lifting anything heavy?" the medic asked me. I was going around half bent over.

"Just drawing the usual three pints of verbs and adjectives from my veins each day," I said.

He murmured something about the "aging process" and cinched me up in a kind of saddle. But the problem really is standing on two feet.

The dinosaur is extinct, as any schoolboy knows. But how did he do it? Science looked at those big bones in the museum and decided the dinosaurs had slipped discs.

He got them by standing up. He stood up to get the juicier leaves higher in the tree. And he slipped his discs.

I got this from the British Empire Council on Rheumatism. Man, no doubt, will extinguish himself the same way. Unless he decides to do it by blowing himself to pieces.

Standing up gave us a lot of new choices of ways to go.

Gave us a lot of other interesting choices, too. (But I don't want to spoil it by telling you the plot.)

I think I popped my back by stretching. I wasn't reaching for juicier leaves. I saw reaching for a woodsaw. Somebody had hung it so you could hardly get it standing on a kitchen chair. How they did it is beyond me.

I was reaching for the woodsaw because our new load of wood is so heavy I could barely carry a log. (The smart cat does not carry wood. Just sits by the fire.)

The Council on Rheumatism says half the world suffers from backaches. And I have joined the club.

This Week's Health Tip

Here's a health tip from the Nebraska State Medical Association:

A person instinctively puts out his hands to break a fall, but in doing this, he may break a wrist and not know it. Wrist fractures are common. Some of these fractures cause very little swelling or deformity, and they are easily mistaken for sprains.

When the fracture does not interfere with ordinary work, it sometimes is not suspected until too late. By then improper healing may have permanently impaired joint function. That is why it is important to be suspicious of any lingering wrist tenderness.

Any disabling injury of the wrist should be examined by a physician to detect possible fractures. This may mean that you will have to wear a cast for several weeks, but it is far better than suffering the handicap of a crippled wrist.

Salt Demand

Chicago — Heavy demand in recent winters has kept producers busy trying to supply all the salt needed for street and highway de-icing, according to W. E. Dickinson, president of the Salt Institute.

Counties Won't Experience Spending Cuts If All Road Bills Are Passed

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

No Nebraska county would experience a decrease in its 1967 highway funding if the entire package of road study bills presented to the 1969 Legislature is approved, Sen. Jerome Warner said Wednesday.

More than $43 million would be made available in 1970 to Nebraska counties and incorporated municipalities if the 16 pending highway bills are enacted.

The state's 537 incorporated cities and villages would receive $21,656,460 while the 93 counties would share an equal amount, Warner said.

City funding would increase substantially.

More Funds

Twenty-seven counties would be allocated more highway funds than they received in 1967. A special make-up fund would guarantee that no county would receive less revenue than it did in 1967.

Figures for 1967 are used for comparative purposes since that was the last year for which actual distribution figures are available.

The highway study committee, headed by Warner, has recommended that revenue allocations to the state and the cities be boosted.

The proposed allocations would send 53⅓% of the highway fund to the state, and 23⅓% each to the cities and to the counties.

Complicated Formulas

Under a hodgepodge of complicated formulas, the current distribution is about 53% state, 36% county and 11% city.

The study "showed the needs justify the proposed allocations," Warner said.

Increased funding would provide the state with $49.5 million in 1970.

The financing plan, if adopted in full, would boost total highway funds by more than 50% in 1970 as compared to 1967.

Cities would receive $13 million to $14 million more. Counties, assuming approval of the proposed special make-up fund, would get $1.2 million more.

The state would receive about $14.6 million more.

Lincoln would receive $2,598,086 in 1970 compared to $894,211 in 1967. Lancaster County's allocation would drop from $1,157,906 to $1,130,490 were it not for the special make-up fund which would assure the county no loss in revenue.

Omaha would receive $5,914,888 compared to $2,795,175.

Money will be distributed to each city on the basis of its relationship to all other cities in municipal population, and miles of city streets. Beginning in 1972, motor vehicle registrations will be an additional factor.

Funds would be distributed to each county on the basis of its relationship to all other counties on rural population, total county population, miles of county roads, lineal feet of bridges, total county motor vehicle registrations, and value of farm products sold.

Added Revenue

Additional revenue would be raised by increases in the gasoline tax, diesel fuel tax, automobile registration fees, farm truck registration fees and local truck registration fees; by transfer of $3.5 million a year from the state's general fund; by allocating sales tax revenue obtained from the sale of new and used automobiles, and by reducing the gasoline dealer's "shrinkage allowance."

In addition to the $49.5 million which the state would realize annually from such a program, a $15 million a year revenue bond program for 1970 and 1971 has been recommended to the Legislature.

The $34.9 million available for state highway construction in 1967 would thus be nearly doubled to $64.5 million in 1970.

"Extensive studies by two legislative committees and three nationally-recognized consultant firms have firmly established our highway needs over the next 20 years," Warner said.

20-Year Span

"The costs came to $961,757,000 for the counties and just under $1 billion for the cities in the 20-year span."

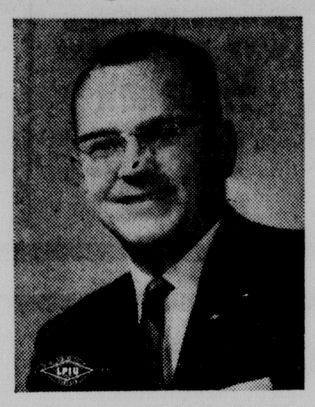

Studies show the Department of Roads must spend $1.8 billion at the state level to provide adequate modern road service throughout Nebraska, Warner noted.

"During the many hearings we have held throughout the state in the past four years, we have been told by the people what highway and street improvements they want," Warner said.

"Now we are prepared to offer the people what they have asked for."

Public hearings on the bills begin April 11.

By Associated Press

Nebraska's Legislature approved 49-0 and sent to the governor for signature into law Wednesday a bill increasing maximum payments under the state's Workmen's Compensation Law.

The bill, LB422, sponsored by Sen. Fred Carstens of Beatrice, was one of eight measures passed on final reading before lawmakers embarked on a five-day Easter recess.

The list (E-emergency clause):

LB405 (Proud) — Redefining the authority of advisory watershed improvement boards. (E). 39-0.

LB422 (Carstens) — Increasing Workmen's Compensation benefits, with the maximum raised from $45 to $55 per week. 40-0.

LB491 (Marvel, Holmquist) — Removing a $3,000 limit on amount which Legislature may provide in one year for law enforcement assistance among Indians. (E). 40-1.

LB507 (Wallwey, Waldron) — Authorizing Game Commission to issue limited permits by which farmers and ranchers may kill deer or antelope on home property. (E). 40-1.

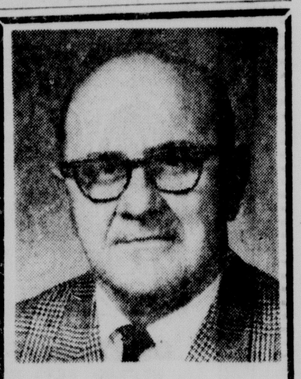

LB563 (Kennedy, Johnson, Moylan, Wenzlaff) — Increasing from 8 to 10 cents per mile the travel compensation for jurors. 41-0.

Ted Chessler On Zoning

The orderly growth of a city requires regulations in the form of zoning. Zoning should offer the plan and regulations to accomplish reasonable development patterns which will keep related uses together and will separate uses that are dissimilar and unrelated. Zoning should also locate various land uses in some form to relationship to each other and to all transportation, utilities, public facilities, and services.
It is my belief that our zoning regulations to be effective and meaningful have to be analyzed in their entirety and amended periodically to keep pace with our exploding economy and complex society. This will, of course, require more planning than I think we are now doing. Also the administration of the regulations should be practical and helpful and less academic.

Clendenon Gets Back In Baseball

Tampa, Fla. (AP) — Donn Clendenon, who threw the baseball world into confusion by suddenly retiring last month, has changed his mind and signed with Montreal, the Expos announced Wednesday.

The Expos, in a prepared statement, said Clendenon signed a two-year contract for an undisclosed amount and will report immediately from his Atlanta home to the Expos' Class A farm club in West Palm Beach, Fla. He was expected to join the Expos in 10 to 14 days after he gets in shape.

John McHale, general manager of the Expos, who signed the 33-year-old former Pittsburgh first baseman to the pact, said Clendenon was able to arrange his business matters to play ball.

"I love baseball," Clendenon said, "and had hated the thought of leaving the game or hurting a team or anyone connected with baseball. However, my personal business problems have been such that it appeared impossible to play this year. I regret the confusion this caused baseball."

Clendenon had been picked by the new Expos from Pittsburgh in last October's major league expansion draft, and then was traded to Houston with Jesus Alou for Rusty Staub.

It was then that Clendenon announced his retirement to take an executive position with a pen company in Atlanta, leaving Houston short-handed in the trade.

To add to the confusion, Staub said he would not return to Houston if the trade was nullified.

Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn ruled that the trade would stand and that Montreal would have to send the Astros another player agreed upon by both clubs.

In his decision, Kuhn also returned to Montreal the rights to Clendenon.

Although the Expos indicated they intend to keep Clendenon now that they have signed him, the unanswered question remained:

What happens if Montreal decides to name Clendenon as the player to complete the trade to Houston?

Bill White To Cards

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals traded infielders Jerry Buchek and Jim Hutto to the Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday for first baseman Bill White.

It's the second time the Cards have traded for the 35-year-old White and the second time they've traded away Buchek. White came to the Cardinals from the San Francisco Giants in 1959 along with Ray Jablonski for pitchers Sam Jones and Don Chotte.

White, a lefthanded hitter, who will be used primarily as a pinchitter, had his best years with the Cardinals. He hit over .300 and drove in over 100 runs between 1962 and 1964. He was traded to Philadelphia in 1965 with catcher Bob Uecker and shortstop Dick Groat for pitcher Art Mahaffey, outfielder Alex Johnson and catcher Pat Corrales.

White hit .239 and drove in 40 runs in 127 games with the Phillies last year.

Buchek, once the Cardinals' regular shortstop, was first traded to the New York Mets in 1967 for utility infielder Ed Bressoud. Buchek, 27, hit .182 in 73 games with the Mets last year. He was reacquired by the Cardinals' Tulsa farm club from the Mets' Jacksonville farm last winter for pitcher Jim Cosman.

Hutto, 21, is a catcher whom the Cards were trying to convert into a third baseman. He hit .256 and drove in 44 runs for Tulsa last year. Both Buchek and Hutton will be assigned to the Phillies' Eugene, Ore., Farm Club.

NU Baseballers To Battle KSU

Nebraska opens its 1969 home baseball season against Kansas State Friday and Saturday, weather permitting.

"My biggest headache right now is figuring some way to get the ice off the infield," quipped coach Tony Sharpe. "But what if a player suddenly sank through the infield?"

The Huskers are 5-3 after an early swing into Texas. They will face the Wildcats in a doubleheader Friday and a single game Saturday.

City Track Teams Eye Relay Meet

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

The Capital City Relays, featuring all five Lincoln high school track teams, opens at 3 p.m. Thursday with the field events and the four-mile relay.

"Our greatest concern is the weather," Northeast athletic director Bun Galloway, who is in charge of the meet, said. "Some rain is in the forecast, but we'll just keep our fingers crossed. It's nothing new though. We've battled the weather waiting for spring the whole last month."

Northeast is the only track squad yet to see action. Pius X opened with an indoor meet win over Columbus Scotus a week ago, then ran third to Lincoln High and York in an outdoor triangular Monday.

The Links showed a continuance of the power which gave them a third place finish in the state meet last spring, piling up 126½ points in romping to the win.

Southeast trounced East, 107⅔ to 24⅓, in an indoor dual Monday.

The relays were held on a perfect spring afternoon a year ago, and Lincoln High amassed 103½ points to second place Northeast's 67 counters in claiming an easy win. The good weather helped contribute to 14 new records on the 16-event card. Another was tied with only a 1967 pole vault mark surviving the onslaught.

NY KNICKS SWEEP SERIES

Lakers Draw Even, 103-88

San Francisco (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers, led by Jerry West, reeled off 16 straight points at the start of the second quarter and easily beat the cold-shooting San Francisco Warriors 103-88 Wednesday night, knotting their best-of-7 National Basketball Association playoff series at two games each.

West, hitting his jump shot from far out, scored 22 points in the first half and wound up with a game high of 36.

The victory evened the Western Division series before a crowd of 14,812 in the Cow Palace. The Lakers thus gained back their home-court advantage they lost by dropping the first two games of the series in Los Angeles.

The Warriors trailed 25-16 after the first period but in the first 4½ minutes of the second quarter, the Lakers' fast break jolted the San Franciscans and Los Angeles suddenly had a 41-16 lead.

Fairbury College, Beatrice Win Grovert Relays Titles

Fairbury — To honor its long-time coach and athletic director, Fairbury Junior College swept to an easy victory in the college division of the C. L. (Red) Grovert Relays here Wednesday afternoon.

The Bombers rolled up 129½ points to far outdistance the five-team field in that class. In the high school division, Beatrice ran away from 15 other schools with 82 points.

Fairbury won five of the seven field events, led by Scott Shelburne, who captured the discus and shot put. The meet winners also won six of the 10 track events.

Led by double winner Dick Graves, Beatrice had little trouble winning against smaller class schools. Graves won the long jump and triple jump, plus running on two winning relay teams. The Tigers won four field events and six running events.

Knights To Tackle Dallas Icers Next

By JOHN HINES
Star Sports Writer

Omaha —The "home ice" jinx was finally broken in their series windup against Kansas City Tuesday night and the Omaha Knights will seek to keep things going as they are in the openers of another set this weekend. And the fur should fly.

The Knights blanked Kansas City, 7-0, to wind up with a 3-1 edge over the Blues and now host the Dallas Black Hawks in another best-of-five set, starting with games in Ak-Sar-Ben Coliseum Friday and Saturday, both starting at 8 p.m.

Because of the Ice Capdes' appearance here next week, the remaining games will all be played in Dallas.

The series windup against KC was the first victory by a home team in any of the four games and the Knights could use any advantage now since they'll be facing a team that holds a 6-2-1 edge over them in regular-season play. The Omaha-Dallas winner plays the Oklahoma City-Tulsa winner for the Central Hockey League title.

"I fear that club," Omaha player-coach Larry Popein said of Dallas. "They're a real good, well-balanced club and have more experience, especially along the blue line," as he referred to Dallas' scoring power.

Defenseman Larry Brown said, "We're going to have to hit and skate like we did in that third period against Kansas City," when the Knights popped in four goals to complete the rout. Brown thought that the hitting was especially important against Kansas City.

"Our forwards were really fore-checking and body-checking and the defense was controlling the puck for us." Kansas City only got 19 shots on Omaha goalie Don Caley, who batted them all away, while the Knights' fired 33 shots on the KC net, seven going through.

Don Luce, who scored two goals and had an assist, said, "As the game went on we got stronger and stronger. Their defense was throwing the puck away and our defense was bringing it up well.

"Caley played a terrific game. Their shots didn't have a chance, he was so hot. We knew what we had to do and didn't think there was any sense playing a fifth game. We lost on our ice the last time and wanted to make it up to our fans."

Popein, who steps out on the ice as a penalty-killer, said of the Kansas City series, "It was a typical playoff game, with the puck going up and down the wings and good body contact.

"Our whole team played a real solid game but we were also fortunate they had a couple of guys out with injuries (Ray Fortin and Ralph Buchanan). We're healthy for this Dallas series."

Reed Hits 43 In 115-108 Win

. . . GAIN EASTERN FINALS

New York (AP) —Willis Reed pumped in a record 43 points and the New York Knickerbokers held off pressing Baltimore 115-108 Wednesday night, sweeping their National Basketball Association Eastern Division semifinal playoff series four games to none.

Reed, connecting repeatedly before a roaring sellout crowd of 19,500 partisan fans who had not seen New York in a division final since 1953, hit nine of his points in a decisive spurt early in the final quarter.

The big center, who shattered Cazzie Russell's club playoff record of 40 points, scored for an 86-82 lead and he added seven more points as the Knicks increased the spread to 101-89.

With Bill Bradley joining Reed in peppering the basket, the Knicks still held a 111-100 bulge before three-point lays by Ray Scott and Earl Monroe and a basket by Wes Unseld cut it to 111-108 with one minute to go.

But Baltimore blew its last chance when Monroe missed a twisting layup after a steal and the Knicks scored the last four points on free throws by Dave DeBusschere and Bradley, making the Bullets the first division champion to be swept in the opening playoff series.

Reed, hitting 15 of 29 shots, took up the slack left when Walt Frazier, the Knicks' top scorer and floor leader in the playoffs, missed most of the first three periods because of foul trouble.

Dick Barnett added 22 points and DeBusschere 18 to the balanced New York attack.

Unseld and Monroe totaled 25 each for the Bullets, who scored the first 12 points of the game but led only 29-25 entering the second period.

New York pulled ahead 38-37 and the lead bounced back and forth until Kevin Loughery's jumper put the Bullets ahead 51-50 at the half.

The Knicks went ahead to stay 77-75 on Bradley's basket late in the third quarter and then turned on the steam early in the fourth to put them in the division finals against the winner of the Boston-Philadelphia semifinal series.

—GETS $1.4 MILLION—

Lew Signs With NBA

Beverly Hills, Calif. (AP) — UCLA basketball star Lew Alcindor signed his professional contract with the Milwaukee Bucks of the National Basketball Association Wednesday, a multi-year pact reportedly calling for $1.4 million.

Alcindor showed up 45 minutes late for the news conference he called for the signing ceremony. Bucks vice-president and general manager John Erickson said the reasons for the delay were that they were signing a number of contracts.

"In a transaction of this size, numerous legal documents are needed," Erickson declared.

The signing in a dining room of the Beverly Hilton Hotel officially ended the NBA-American Basketball Association battle for the services of the 7-foot 1½ star who three times was All-America and twice collegiate player-of-the-year.

No one would officially divulge the contents of the contracts.

Erickson said, "It is the policy of the Milwaukee Bucks not to disclose the length of terms of any contract."

The ABA reportedly had dangled a $3.2 million proposal before the Uclan ace.

Asked if the Bucks' contract approached that figure of the new league, Erickson said, "I have never seen an ABA contract, but I believe this contract we have just signed is very fair."

Milwaukee won the right to draft and sign Alcindor when it finished last in the NBA Eastern Division and then won a coin flip with Western celler dweller Phoenix.

Alcindor, dressed nattily in a dark blue blazer, grey trousers, white and blue striped shirt and bright blue tie, said, "I am very happy to join the Bucks.

"I chose the Milwaukee contract because it was more stable and more lucrative," Alcindor said. "The caliber of play in this league had nothing to do with my choice."

Alcindor, who weighs 235, said he felt he was strong enough and heavy enough for professional play.

Coach Larry Costello of the Bucks was asked how he planned to use Lew. He answered:

"We'll use him on the high post, the low post, just about all over the court. When you have a 7 foot 1½ center, you don't limit him."

And what is Lew going to do with the money:

"I'm just going to use it to make myself financially stable," said the 21-year-old from New York who will celebrate his 22nd birthday in 10 days.

NWU Hosts South Dakota

Nebraska Wesleyan University will launch its outdoor track season Thursday noon. Coach Woody Greeno's thinclads will host South Dakota University in a dual affair.

Greeno noted that while the NWU oval is not at its best, it certainly has improved in the past few days. Thursday's meet was originally set for last Saturday. A re-check of the records on this meet show the 1968 version was held on March 30 with the temperature at 89.

The Plainsmen appear to have their best strength for this meet in the field events. Javelin throwers Harvey Meyer, Lanny Hall and Bruce Oberhelman will see their first action.

Mike Stone is a good bet for points in the long and triple jumps while high jumper Dan McCauley gets his first outdoor test. Some of the runners who have looked good in two indoor tests have included Jack McVay, Jim Watt, Howard Wigert, Roger Sand, and Roger Hurst.

Individual events will be scored 5-3-1 with the relays at 5-0.

Wilson Could Move Bills' Site

Seattle (AP) — The Seattle Times quoted Ralph Wilson Wednesday as saying he was "a little pessimistic" about the prospects for a new home in Buffalo, N.Y., for his American Football League team.

"My lease is up this fall," Wilson said in a telephone interview from his home in Miami, Fla. "If something isn't done in Buffalo I'm going to make a determination by next fall."

The newspaper considered the comment an indication Wilson may move the Buffalo Bills to Seattle, where he has inspected the University of Washington Stadium as a possible interim facility while a new $45 million domed stadium is being built.

The Bills have been playing on the 44,000-seat War Memorial Stadium at Buffalo. A $50 million bond issue was passed last year to build a new stadium. But the Times article said, Buffalo failed to land a major league baseball franchise and there is doubt that Erie County "wants to build a stadium strictly for football."

As for the signing of O. J. Simpson, Southern California's Heisman Trophy winner for whom Buffalo has the draft rights, Wilson said, "We're no closer to signing him than we were in our first meeting."

Bruins Rout Toronto, 10-0; Montreal Wins

. . . ST. LOUIS TRIUMPHS

By Associated Press

Center Phil Esposito, who set a National Hockey League record with 126 points this season, scored four goals and set up two others Wednesday night as the Boston Bruins routed the Toronto Maple Leafs 10-0 in the opener of the Stanley Cup playoffs at Boston.

Tough John Ferguson nudged a third period power play goal past New York's Ed Giacomin and keyed the Montreal Canadiens to a 3-1 victory over the New York Rangers Wednesday night in the opening game of their Stanley Cup playoff at Montreal.

At St. Louis, goalie Jacques Plante, pressed into emergency service, gave up a quick goal then settled down as the St. Louis Blues ripped the Philadelphia Flyers 5-2 in the opener of the National Hockey League West Division playoffs Wednesday night.

Los Angeles was at Oakland in the other opener in the West late Wednesday night.

The Bruins turned two Toronto penalties into early goals and went on to blitz the outclassed Leafs in a brawling melee.

Several brawls broke out, including one between Toronto's Forbes Kennedy and Boston goalie Gerry Cheevers with less than four minutes to play.

Cheevers and Kennedy tangled twice. Then Boston's John McKenzie took over and gave Kennedy a sound cuffing before peace was restored.

All told, referee John Ashley whistled a total of 76 minutes in penalties against Toronto and 56 against Boston. The Leafs drew 10 minors, 5 majors and 3 misconducts. The Bruins had 10 minors, 4 majors and 1 misconduct.

Johnny Bucyk and Derek Sanderson each had two goals for the Bruins.

There were just six seconds left in a penalty to New York's Vic Hadfield when Ferguson turned Bobby Rousseau's pass past Giacomin. The goal came at 13:18 of the final period and Ralph Backstrom also picked up an assist.

It was a penalty to Ferguson in the final minute of the second period that set up the Ranger goal. Just eight seconds after Ferguson went off at 19:05, Jean Ratelle completed a combination play with Bob Nevin and Jim Neilson for the tying goal.

Plante came in at 10:48 of the first period — with the Blues ahead 2-0 — after starter Glenn Hall left because of a pulled hamstring muscle in his right leg.

The Blues said Hall would miss the second playoff game Thursday night here.

Thursday night, it will be the same schedule in both divisions, New York at Montreal, Toronto at Boston, Philadelphia at St. Louis and Los Angeles at Oakland.

Montreal, Cincinnati Keep In Shutout Rut; Cards Win

By Associated Press

The Kansas City Royals and Cincinnati Reds are in shutout streaks at opposite ends of the exhibition baseball spectrum.

The Royals got their second consecutive shutout, using three pitchers to blank Philadelphia 2-0. Dave Morehead, Tom Burgmeier and Dave Wickersham allowed the Phillies just one hit — a first inning single by Cookie Rojas.

The Reds, meanwhile, absorbed their third straight shutout, with Atlanta administering a 10-0 beating. Dave Adlesh and Clete Boyer had two hits apiece for the Braves while Ron Reed, Ken Johnson and George Stone combined for the three-hitter.

George Mittenwald's third hit of the game, a bases-loaded single in the 10th inning, drove in Minnesota's winning run in a 5-4 victory over Boston. Tony Conigliaro and Rico Petrocelli each rapped two-run homers for the Red Sox.

Catcher Frank Fernandez rapped a leadoff home run in the 10th inning, carrying the New York Yankees to a 2-1 victory over the Washington Senators.

Pittsburgh used four singles, two wild pitches and a balk to score four runs in the fifth inning and defeat the New York Mets 7-3.

Jerry Koosman, a 19-game winner, who has been plagued by arm trouble this spring, worked five strong innings for the Mets' "B" squad which dropped a 2-1 decision to Montreal.

Sandy Alomar singled twice and scored both times as the Chicago White Sox blanked the Chicago Cubs 2-0 in a game called by rain after seven innings. Sammy Ellis went all the way for the White Sox and Bill Hands did the same for the Cubs.

Bob Gibson worked seven innings for St. Louis and the Cardinals pounded Detroit 11-3. Norm Cash touched the Cardinal ace for a two-run homer. Mike Shannon drove in three runs and Julian Javier two for the Cards.

Tom Egan delivered a two-run double in the ninth inning, giving California a 6-4 victory over Seattle that ended a five-game winning streak for the Pilots. Dick Stuart had a two-run homer for the Angels, his fourth this spring.

Jim Nash worked seven innings and Dick Green rapped a home run leading Oakland to an 8-4 victory over San Diego.

Willie McCovey hit two homers, one with the bases loaded, to lead San Francisco to a 9-2 victory over Cleveland. The game was seven innings by agreement.

Los Angeles played a night game at Houston.

Southeast Rolls By Thunderbolts

Lincoln Southeast exploded for five runs in their first time at bat this season and the big first-inning burst shot the Knights past Lincoln Pius X Wednesday, 10-5, on the Thunderbolts' diamond.

The big blow for Southeast was a bases-clearing double by Jim Johnson. Gary Dunkle added three hits for the day and 11 walks in the first four innings also boosted Southeast. Pius is now 0-2.

Oakland, Baltimore Division Picks In American League Races

New York (AP) —In the American League, where East still is East and West still is West, it appears that 3,000 miles are likely to separate the winners — Baltimore and Oakkland —in the new two-division set-up.

For this year of baseball's 100th anniversary rings with it for the first time a tradition-breaking alignment that separates the 12 American League teams into two distinct divisions broken apart geographically.

The National League did not adhere strictly to geography as the American League did and created two divisions that for a time at least will be somewhat unequal in strength since last year's top five finishers all are in the Eastern Division

Each club will play the opposition in its own division 18 times each, then cross division lines for 12 games with each team in the other, a situation that further complicates any attempt to try and pick the final standings.

But here's the way it looks in the American League:

Eastern Division

1. Baltimore. 2, Detroit. 3, Boston. 4, New York. 5, Cleveland. 6, Washington.

Western Division

1, Oakland. 2, Minnesota. 3, California. 4, Chicago. 5, Seattle. 6, Kansas City.

In the best-of-five playoff for the pennant and a spot in the World Series the Orioles will show the A's that the power still is in the East.

The Eastern race should evolve into three separate battles with the Orioles in a tight struggle with the defending champion Detroit Tigers. Boston, New York and Cleveland will battle among themselves. And Washington, despite Ted Williams, will fight to avoid embarrassment.

The Tigers went all the way lst year with Denny McLain making the most astounding contributions with 31 victories. It is doubtful he can repeat and just as doubtful that the rest of the pitching staff can take up the slack.

While the Tigers have more punch than the Orioles with Willie Horton, Jim Northrup, Mickey Stanley, Norm Cash, Bill Freehan and Al Kaline, the Orioles have a hard-hitting trio of their own in Frank Robinson, Boog Powell and Brooks Robinson.

But the Orioles may have more pitching what with Dave McNally, Jim Hardin, Tom Phoebus and Jim Palmer, who looks as if he will make good on his comeback, effective during the spring.

The Red Sox should run in front of Group 2 with Jim Lonborg's return to the pitching staff the big factor. The Yankees, without Mickey Mantle, still have strong pitching and two top youngsters in Bobby Murcer and Jerry Kenney, enough at least to pull ahead of the Indians.

In the West, the race could be much tighter with only the two expansion clubs — Seattle and Kansas City — seemingly without a chance.

Pitching gives the A's the edge here with such young hurlers as John "Blue Moon" Odom, Jim "Catfish" Hunter and Jim Nash to go with a team that has daring in Campy Campaneris, slugging in Reg Jackson and a new manager in Hank Bauer.

The Twins have a new manager in Billy Martin and his emphasis on the running game should lift Minnesota into the No. 2 spot. California gets the edge over Chicago because of the potential slugging of Rick Reichardt.

Maravich Nixes Carolina Offer

Baton Rouge, La. (AP) — Press Maravich, Louisiana State University basketball coach, says he has turned down an offer to coach in the professional American Basketball Association.

Maravich told the Baton Rouge Mourning Advocate in a story in Wednesday's edition that an offer to coach the new Carolina Cougars was an attractive one but that he had decided to remain at LSU.

"I enjoy working with athletes on the college level," said Maravich. "I must admit, the Cougars' offer was impressive. The ABA is gaining momentum and I think it's here to stay."

Nixon Staff Is Taking Steps To Counter Kennedy Drive

© New York Times Service

Washington — The administration is now so convinced that Sen. Edward Kennedy is the most likely Democratic opponent of President Nixon in 1972 that it has taken the first steps to counter any drive by him.

Nixon's political staff has begun keeping a record of the Massachusetts senator's views on controversial subjects.

While there are no plans for an early open move against Kennedy, the Nixon strategists are gathering ammunition for the expected clash.

Widening His Base

The record so far indicates that Kennedy is widening his political base by taking stands on a number of controversial issues — against the deployment of an antiballistic missile system, for modification of Selective Service regulations and for an expanded campaign against poverty.

This political response by the White House is a tacit recognition that the Massachusetts senator had succeeded, by winning the post of Senate whip, in entitling himself to be answered on the issues.

From the senator's viewpoint, his position on such issues is likely to appeal to the former supporters of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Wis., who has practically withdrawn from the political scene since his unsuccessful campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination last year. The senator's views also appeal to followers of his late brother, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

Not A Secret

From Nixon's viewpoint, the fact that his aides are stuffing files with material about Kennedy — and his aides are making no attempt to keep their information-collecting secret — tends by itself to cast a political motive on the senator's positions.

Nixon is cognizant of the political risks of taking strong stands on crucial issues.

Even on the question of deploying an antiballistic missile, which Nixon favors, the President has not been pushing hard to win supporters for his plan. Indications are that with the outcome of the congressional battle over the ABM in doubt he is still weighing the question of how much of an advocate he should become on the issue.

BACHELOR FATHER

Seabee Glenn J. Palmer of St. Regis Falls, N.Y., holds his adopted Vietnamese son, John, 5, and daughter, Maria, 3, at the Sacred Heart Orphanage in Da Nang, South Vietnam. Palmer, a bachelor, will bring his new family to the Quonset Point Naval Air Station in Rhode Island where he is to be stationed.

Police Battle Vacationing Students

Palm Springs, Calif. (AP) — Police gunfire into the air broke up a new outbreak among youthful Easter vactioners Wednesday night after a rock music concert in this desert community.

The rampaging youths, a minority among thousands who converged here since last weekend, began the latest disturbance by breaking car windows. Rocks and bottles were thrown—many aimed at police.

A boy was shot in the shoulder, witnesses said, reportedly by an adult in the area, and was hospitalized.

Earlier, six policemen were injured and nearly 200 youths were arrested, one on a charge of rape and others for allegedly assaulting officers. About 250 police officers from as far as 100 miles were called.

"There are an estimated 4,000 to 5,000 kids over there," said police Lt. Ted Green, "and they are running in mobs of 200 to 300 kids through the parking lot area. Officers are attempting to get them broken up."

Disturbances began among hippies and vacationing students gathered outside the local baseball stadium. Another 10,000 heard the concert inside.

Police Chief Robert White said the secluded area of Tahquitz Canyon apparently drew large number of hippie types and there were reports of boys and girls running about naked and jumping into private swimming pools.

Holiday Gathering

The outbreaks occurred as some 15,000 students and young people gathered for the Easter holidays. Palm Springs authorities put out a call for aid from neighboring police departments.

Most of the arrests were for such offenses as blocking auto traffic or swimming in private pools.

One-third of those arrested were under 18, authorities said. Some were charged with illegally having liquor and narcotics.

Traffic Deaths Up

Tokyo (AP) — Traffic accidents killed 3,506 persons in Japan during the first three months of 1969, up 449 from the same period in 1968, the national police agency said.

Little Progress Reported In School Pact Negotiations

The only thing that the school board and Lincoln Education Association negotiators agreed upon Wednesday night was a method for applying merit in administrators' salaries — if it is ever agreed that merit should be applied.

Both teams approved a proposal that a joint committee would determine the amount of merit due individual administrators within predetermined criteria. The makeup of the joint committee was not defined, however.

The action came during the seventh school board-LEA negotiation session devoted to principals' and administrators' salaries, according to a summary released to the press.

Informal meetings were scheduled prior to the next negotiation session for detailed analysis of implementing various salary proposals. One meeting was set for the administrative representatives and the board team, and another was called for the teachers' representatives and the board team.

A new plan for administrative salary ranges was presented by the board negotaitors, "incorporating objectives of the original proposal (of the administrators) but containing different figures in various categories," Supt. John Prasch reported in the summary.

The meeting opened with statements by representatives of the administrators and reports of total costs for the original administrative requests.

Water Hazard Greatest Of All

Cape Town, South Africa (AP) — Golfers practicing drives from the stern of the Dutch cruise ship Rotterdam lose up to 400 balls each day in "the greatest water hazard of them all," said John Marish, the vessel's golf pro.

"So far we have hit 4,000 balls into the Atlantic since leaving New York," he reported during a recent stop.

Progress Spotted In Paris Talks

Paris (AP) — The Vietnam peace talks go into their 11th full-scale session Thursday amid reports of progress, but U.S. sources caution against expectations that a significant break is near.

Whatever progress there may have been seems to be small and of an intangible nature.

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge indicated he considered as progress the fact that the parties to the war have created the structure to exchange views. The word progress was used Wednesday by President Nixon's press secretary, Ronald L. Ziegler, but he declined to elaborate.

Optimism was reflected here in Paris by Foreign Minister Michel Debre who told the French cabinet that favorable signs for Vietnam peace have appeared.

Debre's remarks were relayed by French Information Minister Joel le Theule after the cabinet session. Le Theule said President Charles de Gaulle had told the meeting of the broad lines of his talks with President Nixon in Washington this week.

The four delegations to the talks here have followed with interest the strategy discussions which took place in Washington after the funeral of Dwight D. Eisenhower, but the discussions were not expected to be reflected in Thursday's session.

'City Planning Should Benefit Every Group'

"A healthy, growing city is a must, but it must grow with carefully laid plans which are for the good of all groups," Harry "Pete" Peterson, a candidate for City Council, said.

Peterson said planning is no good if the plans are not for the good of all.

"We cannot grow without taxes but, unless the city maintains a strong central tax base, the small property owners are going to have to assume an additional tax burden," he said.

Peterson said attracting new industry and, at the same time, keeping a strong tax base will not necessarily relieve the present tax burden, but may keep any tax increase to a minimum.

Candidate Larson Suggests Air Base As Fairgrounds

Lincoln City Council candidate William Larson said the city should be ready to recommend the old Lincoln Air Force Base and Huskerville area as a state fairgrounds site if the state considers disposing of the present fairgrounds.

Larson suggested the area could be developed into one of the finest fairgrounds in the world.

He noted that State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff has suggested that the fairgrounds be relocated.

Urban Renewal's Potential Great, Says Candidate

Lincoln City Council candidate James Tetherow said in view of the Unicameral's passage of LB190—dealing with urban renewal and minimum housing—that "urban renewal has the potential to be greatly beneficial to the City of iLncoln."

"If carefully planned and wisely administered, an urban renewal project should upgrade the entire city. I feel that this can be accomplished without harming the people it is intended to help," Tetherow said.

He said the time has come to stop playing on the people's fears with emotional scare tactics. "The people of Lincoln must be logically educated as to how we will benefit from urban renewal," the candidate said.

Hiking Sales Tax For Local Benefit Backed By Baker

A City Council candidate said he would favor increasing the state sales tax and allocating the increased revenue to city and county governments.

W. Richard Baker said the city must find alternative methods of obtaining increased revenue as the city grows.

Baker also said he favors a city zoning policy "which is flexible enough to attract new industry, yet does not jeopardize the residential owner."

Council Hopeful Says Government Must Be Flexible

Lincoln City Council candidate Dick Hartsock said city government must never be so rigid so as to be unresponsive to the "sensible requests" from the public.

Hartsock said, "A city as large as Lincoln surely can adopt a flexible plan to replace stoplights where they are obviously needed at a more rapid rate than now seems to be the case."

He said he favors placing a stoplight on West O St. near Capitol Beach Dr.

"I think Lincoln can afford to anticipate such requests and stockpile the equipment so deadly delays can be avoided and the priorities speeded up," Hartsock said.

Candidate Urges Placing Utilities Under One Board

Hal Hasselbalch, a candidate for the Lincoln City Council, said Wednesday the council should explore the possibilities of placing all its sewer, water and electric services under the same board of professionally qualified directors.

Hasselbalch made the statement in commenting that a separate board in charge of the Lincoln Electric System should be composed of persons with professional qualifications.

"Members of the council have not been and apparently will not be particularly qualified to serve as the managers and developers for a large, public utility," he said.

Hasselbalch said budgetary authority for city utility services should remain with the council as the legislative branch of the city government ultimately responsible to the citizens.

Ed Board Candidate Wekesser Praises Hiring Of Supt. Prasch

Lincoln school board candidate Robert A. Wekesser said "the best thing the current Board of Education has done was to bring John Prasch to Lincoln as its new superintendent."

Wekesser, seeking his second term on the board, said that "Prasch has tightened the ship, pinpointed the shared responsibility and helped the board assume a new role in Lincoln."

The candidate explained that the board has been revising the district's policy handbook and is being "freed of the trivia of administering the school system."

The year-long series of curriculum briefings was cited by Wekesser as an "excellent project undertaken by the board, the administrative staff and curriculum coordinators."

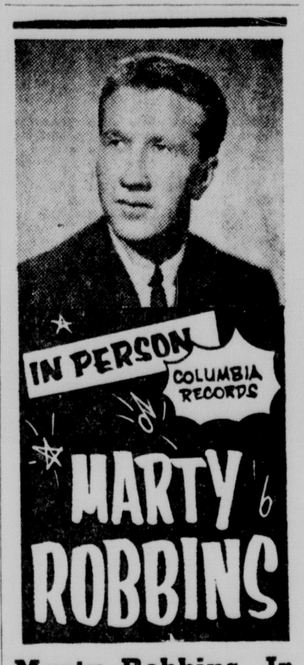

He also cited board accomplishments in tightening fiscal control of the district through the business office, consolidating student services into one office for convenience and efficiency, and expanding the personnel office to broaden its search for the best available talent.

Candidate Favors Free Use Of Pools

Gerry Bowen, a candidate for the Lincoln City Council, announced he favors permitting children up to 16 years of age to use the municipal swimming pools without charge.

Bowen said many children from large families with medium or low income and other underprivileged children cannot use the pools because they do not have the money.

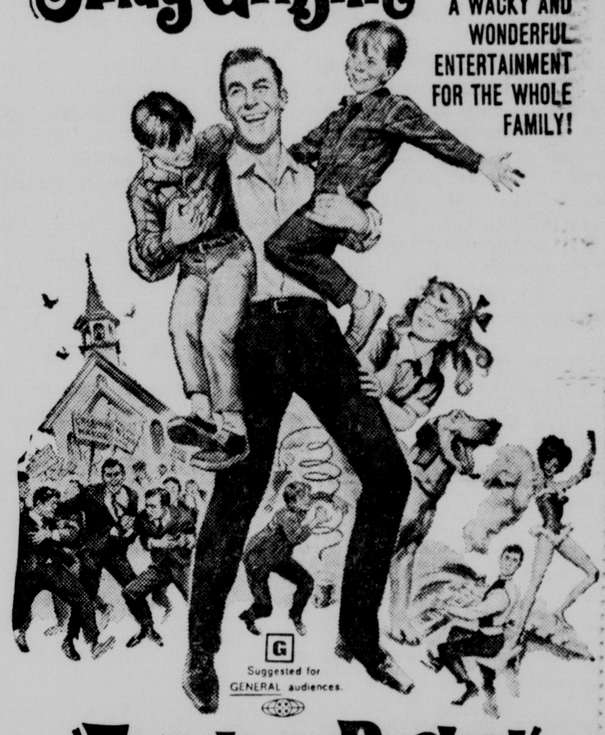

"The swimming facilities are for the use of the Lincoln people so why should we worry about making the pools self-supporting or for making money," the candidate said.

Stock Market Suffers Setback

New York (AP) — The stock market suffered its second straight setback Wednesday as many investors continued to maintain a cautious attitude.

"What the market needs is some dramatic news," a broker said, "like a real breakthrough in the Vietnam peace talks."

The Dow Jones industrial average headed lower from the start and by 11:30 a.m. EST was off more than 4 points. But it managed to pare its losses so that at the close it was off 2.16 points at 930.92.

The Dow lost 2.40 points Tuesday, after scoring gains in the previous three sessions — largely on peace hopes.

Losses held a slight advantage over gains at the start, but the margin widened as trading continued. Of 1,541 issues traded, 936 declined and 385 advanced.

New highs for the year came to 17 and new lows 114.

Volume was 10.11 million shares, compared with Tuesday's 12.36 million shares. Blocks of 10,000 shares or more traded on the New York Stock Exchange totaled 55, compared with 51 Tuesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 1.0 at 334.9 with industrials off .6, rails off 1.0, and utilities off .4.

Gold issues generally were higher, with Dome Mines climbing 3. They apparently were reflecting higher gold prices in some European markets.

Conglomerate issues, under pressure recently, generally were lower. Gulf & Western industries, Loew's Theatres, and Ling-Temco-Vought each lost a point.

Fifteen of the 20 most-active issues on the New York exchange were lower and 5 higher.

Brunswick, the most active, gained 1⅝ to 21¼.

On the American Stock Exchange, 13 of the 20 most-active issues declined, 6 advanced, and 1 was unchanged.

Cattle Trade Slow, Steady At Omaha

Omaha (AP) — Cattle trading settled down to a slow and steady affair Wednesday. Demand was only lukewarm despite a further drop in marketings.

Cows took another solid 50% pruning and clearance was incomplete at mid-afternoon. Other cattle classes were little changed.

Omaha supplies ran to around 4,200 head.

Wednesday, a part load of choice to prime 1,327 lb. fed steers drew a peak of 30.50. Several loadlots comparable quality but lighter 1,100-1,125 lb weights earned 30.00, choice in volume downward to 28.50. In between quality good and choice under 1,200 lbs 28.00-28.75, good descriptions downward to 25.00. Load good 1,447 lb. Holsteins earned 26.50.

Wheat Futures Advance Again

Chicago (AP) — Wheat futures prices advanced again on the Chicago Board of Trade on Wednesday and tended to influence buying of other grain futures.

Soybean futures, however, were weak at the close. Trade was, at best, only fair between the usually active opening and closing trade.

The buying of wheat futures picked up momentum after the midway point. Later, some new commission house buying entered the pit and prices moved 1½ cents ahead from early lows. Near the close, however, some light profit taking took the edge off the advance.

Rye prices tended to move independently higher, largely on trade reports of new export business. Oats prices weakened near the close and ended the day on a mixed tone.

At the close, wheat was ½ to ¾ cent a bushel higher, May 1.27¾; corn was unchanged to ¼ higher, May 1.16⅞; oats were unchanged to ¾ lower, May 66¼; rye was unchanged to ⅞ higher, May 1.18¾ and soybeans were unchanged to 1 cent lower, May 2.61⅞.

Card of Thanks 4

Thank you — We're grateful for the kind service given us during Steve's recent illness. To Dr. Garlinghouse for taking the situation in hand, to the fellows at Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, to the staff at Lincoln General Hospital, to Steve's professors at the University of Neb. and to all other people involved. Just when you're almost convinced this is a cold cruel world, along comes some emergency to prove you wrong.

THE RYATTS

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

☆ ☆ ☆

A hundred years ago the average American worked 65½ hours a week. His counterpart today wrks 40½.

On Lanzarote, easternmost of the Canary Islands, camels carry visitors over lava-crusted slopes that may sizzle at 700 degrees Fahrenheit only two feet below the surface.

The Asmat of New Guinea believe so strongly in equality that when some schoolchildren were taught to play soccer, the game invariably ended in a tie. Only after much prompting did the children learn to play to win.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

One letter simply stands for another In this example, A is used for the three L's X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.
